U.S. INFLATION AT A TIPPING POINT, SOARS TO 40-YR HIGH

The core consumer price index, which excludes food and energy, increased 6.6% from a year ago, the highest level since 1982

HOUSEHOLDS HIT AS RENT COSTS SHOOT UP

From a month earlier, the core CPI climbed 0.6% for a second month. The overall CPI rose 0.4% in September compared to August even as the annual rate moderated to 8.2% from 8.3%. High inflation means more burden for families as their grocery bills, utility costs and rents will up. Housing rents rose by 0.8% — the largest rise since June 1990 — wiping out pay gains

SPLIT TOP COURT VERDICT ON HIJAB ROW

Antithesis to secularism or just a matter of choice? CJI to assign the case to an appropriate bench

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

A two-judge bench of the Supreme Court on Thursday delivered a spilt verdict on pleas against the Karnataka High Court upholding the state government's bar on hijab in educational institutions. They sent the matter to the Chief Justice of India to set up a larger bench to settle the matter.

While Justice Hemant Gupta upheld the ban saying the hijab was an antithesis to secularism, Justice Sudhanshu Dhulia said wearing it was just a matter of choice.

Justice Gupta said the government order (GO) that directed schools in Karnataka to follow the prescribed uniform, excluded all religious symbols visible to the naked eye. "Anything worn by the students under his/her shirt cannot be said to be objectionable in terms of GO issued," he added.

"Secularism is applicable to all citizens, therefore, permitting one religious community to wear their religious symbols would be antithesis to secularism," Justice Gupta said.

In contrast, Justice Dhulia ordered quashing of the GO saying the ban was against the constitutional value of fraternity and integrity.

"Under our Constitutional scheme, wearing a hijab should be simply a matter of choice. It may or may not be a matter of essential religious practice, but it still is, a matter of conscience, belief, and expression. If she wants to wear a hijab, even inside her classroom, she cannot be stopped, if it is worn as a matter of her choice, as it may be the only way her conservative family will permit her to go to school, and in those cases, her hijab is her ticket to education," the judge said.

In his 133-page verdict, Justice Gupta said religious belief cannot be carried to a secular school that gets state funds. "The State has not denied admission to the students from attending classes. If they choose not to attend classes due to the uniform that has been prescribed, it is a voluntary act of such students and cannot be said to be in violation of Article 29 by the State. It is not a denial of rights by the state but instead a voluntary act of the students. It would thus not amount to denial of the right to education if a student, by choice, does not attend the school," he ruled.

But Justice Dhulia saw in the restriction a possible denial of education to the girl child. "By asking the girls to take off their hijab before they enter the school gates, is first an invasion on their privacy, then it is an attack on their dignity, and then ultimately it is a denial to them of secular education...If the belief is sincere and it harms none else, there can be no justifiable reasons for banning hijab in a classroom," he said in his 73-page judgment.

Because of the split verdict, the high court's judgment will continue to prevail for now.

Verdict has further strengthened our hope: Student

One of the students, Aliya Assadi from Government PU College for Girls in Udupi, who had approached the Karnataka High Court insisting on allowing wearing of hijab inside classrooms, tweeted, "This judgement upheld the rights of victims. Hon'ble Justice Dhulia's statement has further strengthened our hope in fair judgement and constitutional values. Thousands of hijabi students are waiting to resume their education."

Ban to continue in state till apex court gives final order: Nagesh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN the wake of the Supreme Court's split verdict on the hijab ban imposed by the state government, Karnataka Primary and Secondary Education Minister B C Nagesh said the ban will continue till the SC gives its final verdict. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the government expects a clear verdict and will wait for the final judgement.

Bommai also said that the ban is now a national issue and not limited to Karnataka alone, as there are many dimensions to it. "We have seen this issue being raised at the national and even international level. It's a judicial matter. On the one hand, there is a request from students, and on the other, there is a government order. I can comment only after seeing the judgement," the CM added.

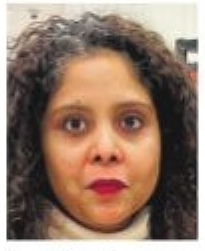
Ketto funds: ED chargesheets Ayyub

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Enforcement Directorate filed a chargesheet against journalist Rana Ayyub in a special court for allegedly misappropriating funds collected for relief and charity by creating personal assets and violating the foreign contribution law.



Rana Ayyub

The chargesheet alleged that Ayyub raised ₹2.69 crore through crowdfunding from foreign contributors illegally, and diverted major portions of it for personal gains.

The ED case is based on an FIR by the UP Police in September last year where it was alleged that Ayyub raised huge amounts of funds through Ketto, an online crowdfunding platform, in the name of relief work in Assam, Bihar and Maharashtra and to help Covid victims in India.

But the funds were received in the accounts of Ayyub's father and sister and subsequently transferred to her personal accounts, the ED said. It claimed that Ayyub utilised these funds to create a fixed deposit of ₹50 lakh for herself and transferred another ₹50 lakh in a new bank account. Only about ₹29 lakh was used for relief work, the ED stated.

For her part, Ayyub tweeted that the chargesheet is "yet another desperate attempt to target and intimidate me for my work, and yet another example of the abuse of the PMLA law and misuse of law enforcement agencies to silence me."

ISRO to replace ageing PSLV with new-gen rocket

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ T'Puram

THE Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) is developing a rocket named Next Generation Launch Vehicle (NGLV) to replace its ageing workhorse the Polar Satellite Launch Vehicle (PSLV), which was developed in the 1980s.

Making this announcement at the at a press conference on the sidelines of the 'Engineers Conclave 2022' at the Liquid Propulsion Systems Centre at Valiyamala here on Thursday, ISRO chairman S Somanath said, "PSLV was developed in the 1980s and it does not serve the needs of the 2020s. There needs to be an evolution." While refusing to give a time frame for retiring PSLV, he said that ISRO would stop using the rocket after completing the remaining launches approved by the government.

Asked about propulsion technology in the NGLV, Somanath said it would use 'semi-cryogenic' technology which is both efficient and cost-effective. He hinted that the new rocket could also be reusable. "A reusable rocket will have a smaller payload than an expendable one. If it is reusable, the payload will be five tonnes and if it's expendable, it will go up 10 tonnes," he added. Somanath said the payload parameters were arrived at after analysing the current market requirements.

The ISRO chief said participation of the industry is essential for the new rocket's development. This would ensure capability to launch it on a commercial basis, he added.

AUTO UNIONS DEMAND MORE PROFIT FOR DRIVERS

Say don't punish passengers & vehicle owners, fix rates at the earliest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FOLLOWING penalty on aggregator autorickshaws drivers and action against them, the Transport Department claimed that it did not penalise any driver for using the application but for refusing the ride. However, those who depend on the economical and easy mode of transport continue to suffer.

The department has been flooded with complaints from citizens about aggregators allegedly overcharging them. Some of the complainants stated that the minimum fare for 2km was Rs50, and now in the last few weeks, it has doubled to Rs100-Rs150. The rate fixed by the government is Rs30 for 2km for autorickshaws. According to the Transport Department, they are plying illegally.

Despite the government issuing an order, banning their service, the aggregators continue to operators and allegedly accepting bookings on apps.

"The drivers are offering a choice to customers: Either pay half the amount as per the app or pay according to the meter," said a passenger.

Reacting to the development, Auto drivers' associations have asked the government not to punish passengers and vehicle owners, and are instead asking the aggregators to share a larger part of profit with the drivers.

Speaking to TNIE, Tanveer Ahmed, president of Ola, Uber Taxi Drivers' and Owners' Association, said that the issue came to the forefront after a rape in 2019 in Delhi. The government found the aggregators had no permission to operate autorickshaws, and the rules were framed that autoricksaws must get a license. Many safety measure were also suggested, he said. "The rates should be fixed at the earliest. The driver's share of income should increase," said Pasha.

M Manjunath of Bengaluru Auto Drivers' Union and Welfare Associations' Federation said that the government must order that a larger share of the profit be shared with the drivers, instead of penalising them, adding the government must come up with an app to help both the drivers and passengers.

Hold talks one more time with Ola, Uber: HC to govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Thursday asked the state government to hold another round of talks with taxi aggregators—ANI Technologies Pvt Ltd and Uber India Technologies Pvt Ltd—which offers its services through Ola and Uber apps, to reach a consensus on the rate for autorickshaw services.

Justice MGS Kamal issued the direction while hearing a batch of petitions filed by aggregators, challenging the notice and ban order on October 14, after the Advocate General Prabhuling K Navadagi agreed to hold another round of meeting with them.

Navadagi argued that both taxi aggregators have admitted during the meeting that they cannot offer autorickshaw services on their apps. The petitioners' counsel contended that the proceedings of the meeting do not bear signatures of the petitioners' representatives. The petitioners argued that autorickshaw was included in the definition of taxi under the rules, and that they have a right to collect service charges for offering value-added services.

Senior counsel for Ola submitted that the company is charging Rs19 as service charge for autorickshaw in addition to the amount paid to the drivers.

Senior counsel for Uber argued that state government's arguments run contrary to the order passed by the Division Bench of the HC in December 2016, asking the government to refrain from taking coercive action against the aggregators for violation of Rules, 2016, when the appeals are pending decision.

The counsels submitted that licences have been obtained under the rules, and their applications for its renewal submitted to the Transport Department in 2021 are still pending.

In the impugned notice to the aggregators on October 6, 2022, it was stated that they have violated the regulations under the Karnataka On-Demand Transportation Technology Aggregator Rules, 2016, by providing autorickshaw services.

Consumers were also charged higher than the rate fixed by the government, it added, warning that if services are not ceased, the Commissioner of Transport will take action. An order to that effect was issued on October 11, 2022 by the commissioner. A penalty of Rs 5,000 per vehicle per day for operating autorickshaw services was also mentioned.

Panelists miffed as BDA, BBMP chiefs skip meet

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE Petition Committee of the Legislative Assembly is upset over the absence of both BBMP and BDA chiefs during a meeting at the Vidhana Soudha on Thursday, to discuss problems of Layouts.

They have decided to write to the Chief Secretary Vandita Sharma alleging that the chiefs have been disrespectful towards the committee as they did not give any prior intimation about their absence.

The meeting was convened to discuss the inordinate delay in the transfer of Bandernath Layout from the Karnataka Housing Board to the corporation, and incomplete infrastructure at BDA's Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Layout.

BDA sources clarified that its commissioner Kumar G Naik, who is Additional Chief Secretary, Energy, had already informed them about his absence as he will be leaving Bengaluru on Thursday for a meeting involving Energy Ministers across the country in New Delhi.

BDA Engineer member HR Shantharajanna was present. Additional chief secretary of Urban Development Department Rakesh Singh had conveyed that he will skip the meeting due to a virtual NGT hearing at the same time, which he confirmed to TNIE.

Appachu Rajan told TNIE, "Both civic agencies did not send their chiefs. The BDA should have sent their Commissioner or Secretary. I am satisfied with the answers of the Engineer Member regarding the status of the infra works at Kempegowda Layout."

Even if the BDA chief had informed earlier, the committee should be accorded due respect and he should have managed somehow, he said, adding that another meeting will be held in a fortnight. "Our member MLA S Suresh Kumar will be visiting KG Layout on our behalf on Monday or Tuesday to assess the progress."

TNIE failed to reach BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath despite many attempts.

Evaluation will be done for Classes 5, 8: Nagesh

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

SCHOOL Education and Literacy Minister BC Nagesh clarified that a decision has been taken to undertake evaluation at some juncture of school education for Classes 5 and 8, but the details are yet to be hammered out.

Following a meeting with education officers across the state, he said that an agreement has been reached that evaluations must be conducted.

"This has been under discussion for a few months. Officials have highlighted that Class 9 students are unable to solve basic maths problems, which is a cause of concern. However, no student will be detained based on the evaluation, and instead additional coaching will be given to improve their performance," he told The New Indian Express.

Meanwhile, the minister also discussed the progress of the Kalika Chetharike programme with all district-level education officers. He said that almost all Deputy Directors of Public Instruction have reported positive results. "The DDPIs report that the students are enjoying the programme and there has been an overall improvement," he said. Another review meeting of the programme will be held in December, he added.

'STENCH-FIELD' AS DRAINS CLOG, DEBRIS PILES UP

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

BLAMING the accumulation of sludge and debris, residents of Whitefield and Prestige Ozone Apartment complained of stench emanating from Rajakaluves. They fear that if clogged drains are not cleared, there will be flooding again in future.

A 75-year-old resident Manorama complained that the stench is so unbearable that her children are refusing to visit her place. Prafulla Shetty, another resident, claimed that the metal items are changing colour due to the air pollution.

"I have invited friends for a Diwali party, and I am worried about the smell. The drains may be clogged, and as water stagnates, it emits a foul smell. There is also a possibility of floods in future," said Prafulla Shetty, a resident of Prestige Ozone.

Jagadish Reddy, a resident of Varthur, alleged that the quality of water has not improved despite BWSSB's submission before the court that sewage will be treated in KC valley by 31 March 2021. He claimed that no action has been taken by Minor Irrigation department on pipeline illegally bisecting the lake, resulting in garbage being dumped around Rajakaluves upstream of Bellandur and Varthur lakes, which ends up in Dakshina Pinakini.

BBMP Special Commissioner Trilok Chandra said that they are unaware of such an issue, and added that the residents should take up the issue with the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board to evaluate water and air quality of the surrounding.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)

You really must steel yourself for another round of emotional ear-bashing within several days. For you, the personal compensation is provided by the Moon's assertive presence, which strengthens your resolve and should mean that if others shout, you can shout louder.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)

One region of your chart, ruling travel and communication, is looking extremely lively, but the livelier it becomes, the greater will be your need to exercise due caution and double-check your progress at every turn. There's no requirement to rush it, so you may take your time.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)

Employers, or people in positions of power, are likely to show themselves in a different light at the moment, being that much more emotional than usual. However, it is bank managers, and anyone else responsible for your money, who you really need to keep and eye on!

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)

Watch out! Mars is now adopting a new and aggressive position, stirring up feelings you'd probably rather forget. Remember the old rule of war: only fight battles you know you can win. That said, if conflict is not to your taste, it's time to hone your diplomatic skills.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)

There is a right way to manage your affairs - and a wrong way. The golden rule now must be to avoid all forms of intrigue and pay no attention to rumours of any sort. Concentrate on pursuing your own affairs with as much honesty and integrity as you can muster.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)

A sensational relationship between Venus and Mars is about to do you a power of good, but only if your behaviour is impeccable. If you insist on maintaining a rigid and outdated set of values, these same planets will seriously undermine you. It's all a question of leading a balanced life and of being human.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)

Venus continues to emphasise the practical side of relationships. You may have to make a tactical retreat at work, but this should be balanced by a serious advance at home. It's all a question of weighing up the odds in different situations and, in this, you are a master.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

The moment has come to speak out and make others see that whatever misunderstandings took place can now be put right. The past is the past, and that is that. Very soon you will personally be in a position to right old wrongs. You need justice – now!

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)

Turn your attention to your financial affairs, and take no risks. Resist all pressure and turn down all blandishments, no matter how seductive. And don't trust anybody. It's not that they are necessarily dishonest, just liable to get the facts wrong.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)

It's make or break time in at least one close tie or association. The question is whether this particular relationship can be made to work, or if it should be put on hold, perhaps indefinitely. It may be a difficult choice, but it will probably have to be taken sooner or later.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

You have waited too long for your personal rewards to allow other people to steal your thunder, or exploit your feelings. However, the worst thing you could do at the moment is act on the assumption of suspicions which have only a tenuous basis in reality.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)

Events that take place over the coming few days could have a powerful bearing upon your social aspirations and romantic life. You should try to be as independent as possible without cutting yourself off from close partners. It's a delicate balancing act but I'm sure you'll manage.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BANASHANKARI police arrested five people, including a 55-year-old former BBMP corporator, on allegations of forcibly converting a 26-year-old Dalit man to Islam.

The victim, identified as Sridhar Gangadhar, a native of Maddur in Mandya district, had stated that the accused compelled him to undergo circumcision and converted him to Islam. The case was first filed with APMC police station in Navanagar of Hubballi, against 12 accused on September 9, and was recently transferred to Banashankari police station.

The former corporator of Banashankari ward, Ansar Pasha, is said to be a close aide of a city MLA. He was a corporator from the Congress party and resident of KS Layout. His friend Nayaz Pasha, a resident of Banashankari, and Hajisab alias Shameem Shaliq, a resident of KS Layout, were arrested. The other two arrested are Attavar Rehman of Mandya and Shabbir Khan of KS Layout. All five were remanded in judicial custody. "Accused number 1 Rehman brought the victim to the masjid on the pretext of resolving his financial issues. Both Rehman and the victim knew each other for the past two-and-half years. Accused number 3 Nayaz Pasha illegally kept the victim at the masjid, accused number 2 Hajisab preached about Islam to the victim, and the former corporator is accused number 5 for supporting the two accused. Shabbir Khan is accused of being part of the gang. The case was transferred in the first week of October to Banashankari police station as the masjid is in its jurisdiction," said an officer.

Nayaz Pasha is the president of Khabristan Masjid and Hajisab is an imam (priest) in the masjid. The victim had stated that he was compelled to eat beef against his wish and his name was changed to Mohammed Salman. He added that the accused converted him at gunpoint and also made him hold the pistol and took his photograph, and threatened to frame him as a terrorist by posting it on social media. He was also asked to convert at least three Hindus a year. He was taken to mosques in Tirupati and other places.

Pharma firms told to check for glycerin, glycol content

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Drug Control department sent a notice to all drug manufacturers to analyse individual containers of drugs, and ensure that glycol and glycerin levels are as per the provisions of the Drugs and Cosmetics Act.

The department released the order on October 10, and directed the firms to submit a certificate of analysis of glycerin and propylene glycol procured in the last one year, and e-mail the analysis to the Drug Control department by October 17. The department followed in the steps of the Kerala government, which had sent a similar notice, and also banned all drugs manufactured by Maiden Pharmaceuticals.

The company came to public notice only when the World Health Organisation issued a global alert against four India-made cough syrups manufactured by the Haryana-based company. The letter issued by the department notified that the products WHO alerted against contained unacceptable levels of ethylene glycol and diethylene glycol as contaminates.

Products containing such contaminants are considered to be adulterated, according to the Drugs and Cosmetics Act. Doctors voiced the lack in regulation of drugs in India, which often led to the easy availability of many low quality drugs or prescribed/banned drugs.

ED files complaint against ex-banker, others in ₹19-cr scam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED) has filed a Prosecution Complaint (PC) before the Principal City Civil and Sessions Judge and Special Court in Bengaluru against T L Praveen Kumar, former branch manager, Bank of Baroda (BoB), S K Subramanaya Reddy, R Ranganath, Narasimha Murthy K, Santha Kumari K and R Kavitha under Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA). The court has taken cognisance of the PC, the central agency stated in an official release on Wednesday.

The ED had initiated a money laundering investigation on the basis of an FIR registered by Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), Anti-Corruption Branch (ACB), Bengaluru, under various sections of the IPC. Subsequently, the CBI had charge-sheeted the accused.

"The investigation has revealed that Kumar, while working as a senior manager and branch head, BoB, Kengeri, Bengaluru between December 13, 2017 and July 7, 2018, in collusion with Reddy and others, had sanctioned 186 gold loans against the pledge of spurious gold ornaments to 57 borrowers with a mala-fide intention, by deviating from the extant guidelines of the bank and caused loss of Rs 19.03 crore. These borrowers were found to be relatives, friends and employees of Reddy," the ED stated. The agency added that Reddy "transferred the gold loan money received in the respective gold loan accounts to a personal account held in his name and in the name of his family members, thus layering the proceeds of the crime. The spurious gold loan amount was used for their personal gains and that of their accomplices. The proceeds of crime were laundered by way of acquiring/possessing immovable properties."

Earlier, the Directorate had provisionally attached immovable properties of Rs 4.83 crore. The Provisional Attachment Order was confirmed by the adjudicating authority (PMLA), New Delhi.

MLA convicted for false affidavit

Uday Garudachar also penalised Rs 10,000; gets bail, to appeal against order in HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BJP MLA from Chikpet constituency in Bengaluru, BG Uday aka Uday B Garudachar, has been convicted by a court for not mentioning the criminal case he was facing and details of his wife's bank account in the affidavit he filed to contest the 2018 Assembly elections. The court has sentenced him to undergo two months of simple imprisonment and has levied a penalty of Rs 10,000. The MLA was granted bail and he will be appealing against the order in the High Court.

HG Prashanth had filed a private complaint against the MLA in 2020, alleging that there were two criminal (cheating) cases against Uday in Ashoknagar police station and Devanahalli, but he (Uday) had not mentioned this in the affidavit he filed before the election commission on April 18, 2018, to contest of the Assembly elections.

Further, the complainant alleged that the MLA had not furnished the bank balance details of his wife, and an investor in Maverick Holdings Pvt Ltd where he was the managing director and was disqualified from the Registrar of Companies. The complainant had prayed for action against Garudachar accusing him of submitting a false affidavit to contest the election.

The accused MLA had contended that the police had filed a B-report (closure report) in one case and the High court had stayed the other. He had also defended that he was unaware of the exact balance in his wife's bank account as locker charges were debited without his notice. Further, he mentioned that there was no column in the affidavit to mention that he was the director of the private company.

Preeth J, the judge of the Special Court for the trial of cases filed against sitting as well as former MPs/MLAs, pronounced the accused guilty under section 125A of the Representatives of People Act on Thursday, while observing that the accused was bound to furnish information in respect of pendency of the case (Devanahalli) and to furnish correct details of the bank account and also the available balance in his wife's account as on the date of filing the affidavit.

The court imposed a penalty of Rs 10,000 and ordered that he has to further undergo 15 days of imprisonment if he fails the pay the fine. However, the same court granted him bail as the imprisonment is less than three years and the MLA's advocates said they will challenge the order in the High Court soon.

Assault on RSS workers: Govt to stamp out bad elements

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hubballi

REACTING sharply to the assault on RSS workers in Haveri, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said the State government would take legal action to stamp out bad elements responsible for the incident. Three RSS workers were allegedly attacked by a group in Rattihalli town of Haveri district on Tuesday night.

Police arrested 24 persons, including the head of Anjuman-e-Islam, a Muslim outfit.

Bommai told reporters in Ballari on Thursday that arrangements for the RSS Path Sanchalan had been going on for the past week, and those who went to check the procession route were assaulted on Tuesday night.

Action was taken only after a video of the incident went viral on social media, in which more than 100 youths were seen attacking RSS workers with sticks. The incident is said to have happened when RSS workers were exploring a possible route for RSS's Path Sanchalan to be taken out on Friday.

According to a senior police officer, the incident might have broken out after an argument between RSS workers and a group of Muslim youth. Already, police have arrested 24 people and more arrests could be made based of video footage.

CM directs DCs to release relief soon

ENS @ Hosapete

WITH heavy rainfall continuing to lash the state, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday held a video conference with the Deputy Commissioners and discussed measures to be taken to mitigate the problems in the affected districts.

The CM instructed the officials to give priority to relief measures and disburse compensation for rain damages at the earliest, apart from taking preventive measures. Assessing the measures taken by the district administrations, Bommai instructed the DCs to visit the rain-hit areas to ensure that there are no lapses or discrepancies -- either in recording the extent of damages to crops and properties, or in taking up relief measures.

The commissioner of the State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) will issue a circular to release additional relief apart from NDRF guidelines for rain damages. "During spot visits, the DCs should issue proper instructions to tahsildars for the distribution of compensation," he said.

RAHUL VOTES FOR KANNADA FOR LOCAL BIZ, COMPETITIVE EXAMS

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi flanked by opposition leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC chief D K Shivakumar wave the national flag in Maralahalli village on Thursday

G SUBHASH CHANDRA
@Molakalmuru (Chitradurga dt)

STRESSING the need to give prominence to Kannada, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Thursday alleged that the BJP and RSS have no love for Kannada.

Addressing the public during the last street-corner meeting of Bharat Jodo Yatra in the tribal town of Karnataka, he said, "Kannada is seen as a second-class language by BJP and RSS, and this is a dangerous trend. If this continues, they will face the wrath of Kannadigas in future. Kannada is the first priority for the Congress. There should be independence to conduct business in one's own language -- Kannada in Karnataka, Tamil in Tamil Nadu, Malayalam in Kerala should get prominence, and Bharat Jodo Yatra is moving ahead with these messages."

Rahul stressed the need to conduct competitive examinations in Kannada, and said the language has history, culture and heritage. During his interaction with unemployed youths at Giriyammanahalli village, most of the questions raised were on not being allowed to write competitive exams in Kannada. "In the federal system, there should be freedom to use one's native language," he said.

Targeting the state government, Rahul said that thousands of unemployed youths have shared their problems and questioned why they are not getting employment.

During Thursday's padayatra, Rahul Gandhi visited a groundnut plot and found the crop severely damaged due to rain, and vegetables decaying by the roadside. "The BJP should clarify what it has done to protect farmers, and why farmers should pay GST," he said.

"The people of Karnataka have given us strength and vigour during the Yatra, and Congress MLAs and ticket aspirants are moving with this strength. I have learnt a lot during this journey from Kanyakumari till Molakalmuru," said Rahul. "This Yatra reflects the culture of India. It is the voice of Basavanna, Ambedkar, Mahatma Gandhi, Narayana Guru… We are marching against those who are splitting the country and becoming a threat to unity."

Ballari Cong gears up to welcome yatra

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @ Ballari:

THE Ballari Congress unit is busy with final preparations to welcome the Bharat Jodo Yatra led by former AICC president Rahul Gandhi at Halakindi village, on the district border, on Friday evening.

Rahul is scheduled to spend the night in the village and start the march on Saturday morning to reach Ballari city, where he will address a mega rally at the Municipal Ground.

Party leaders and workers are committed to make the march successful as it passes through the district. With the Congress having chosen Ballari for the second rally of the Yatra, they are working relentlessly to bring in more people, and around 3 lakh people are expected to gather.

Moreover, the people of Ballari have a special connection with the Gandhis. When AICC president Sonia contested the 1999 general election from Ballari against firebrand BJP leader Sushma Swaraj, the voters gifted her a fabulous victory. The party wants to recall that association and give Rahul Gandhi a grand welcome.

'BJP dependent on BSY'

Konasagara: Congress leader Siddaramaiah on Thursday hit out at the BJP in Karnataka saying the party is totally dependent on BS Yediyurappa to win elections in the state. Siddaramaiah was speaking at the Congress' Bharat Jodo Yatra here. "Yediyurappaji is everything for the BJP in Karnataka. Without him, it is impossible for the party to campaign in elections," he said. He said that the State Government, instead of focussing on governance, was concentrating on other issues. ENS

Hijab row: SC split verdict a ray of hope for Udupi petitioners

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Udupi

WITH the Supreme Court delivering a split verdict on the hijab pleas and referring the matter to a larger bench, the Udupi-based Association for Protection of Civil Rights has expressed optimism that the final verdict will be in favour of the petitioners.

Forum president Hussain Kodibengre, speaking to the media on behalf of the petitioner girls, said, "We expect that going forward, the larger bench may pronounce the verdict in our favour. Our advocates are prepared to argue the case before the larger bench."

It can be noted that most of the girls who insisted on wearing the hijab inside classroom have discontinued their studies. However, Hussain said the observations made by Justice Sudhanshu Dhulia has instilled hope for the girls. Justice Dhulia said the foremost question on his mind was the education of the girl child. "We will wait for the final and clear verdict and we have full faith in the judicial system,'' said Hussain.

Meanwhile, Udupi MLA K Raghupathi Bhat said for time being, the High Court verdict will continue to be in effect. Bhat is also the chairman of the College Development Committee, PU College for Girls in Udupi, where the hijab row started. Bhat added that students will not be allowed to wear the hijab inside the classroom. The future decision will depend on the final verdict of the Supreme Court, he said.

Bhat said that a majority of Muslim students have no problem sitting inside the classroom without the hijab. "Many Muslims known to me have shared a similar opinion. Those opposing are trying to create trouble in society. Once they called for a bandh, Hindus were upset, following which they restricted Muslims from participating in temple fairs and the halal issue also emerged. Such differences did not exist in society earlier. I appeal to the students to respect the court's verdict. Internationally, especially in Iran, we are seeing protests against the Hijab. However, here, we are not asking for a blanket ban of hijab. Dress code inside the classroom should be followed,'' he added.

Udupi SP Akshay M Hakay on Thursday visited the government PU College for Girls and said they have kept a watch to make sure that law and order is not disrupted.

'No religious practice allowed in institutions'

EARLIER in the day, soon after the SC verdict was out, Nagesh made it clear that students will have to continue wearing prescribed uniforms to educational institutes as mentioned in the government order.

He said that as per the Karnataka Education Act, no religious practices can be allowed inside educational institutions. He pointed out that throughout the world, including in Muslim countries like Iran and Iraq, women are protesting against hijab.

It may be recalled that in December last year, six Muslim students were stopped from entering the Government PU College in Udupi as they were wearing hijabs. Local BJP MLA Raghupathi Bhat, who heads the college's development committee, told the girls to follow the dress code of the college. The girls refused and instead stopped attending classes. They filed a writ petition in the Karnataka High Court and also approached the National Human Rights Commission.

Meanwhile, Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said the state government will consult legal experts over the split verdict of the Supreme Court. "We made the uniform mandatory for all students to safeguard their interests. There is no question of stepping back from this decision," the home minister said.

Chikkamagaluru: In the wake of the recent assault and illegal detention of Dalit labourers at a coffee estate in Hunisehalli Pura near Balewhonnur, the police have come under fire for delay in registering an FIR against the accused Jagadeesh Gowda, said to be a BJP leader, and his son Tilak. To amicably resolve the issue, Superintendent of Police Uma Prasanth held a SC/ST grievance meeting with Dalit leaders and a large number of workers at Ambedkar Bhavan in Chikkamagaluru on Thursday. Meanwhile, a huge protest rally was taken by the BSP, CPI, dalit forums, and other outfits in Balehonnur on Thursday. Priest sends out Dalit family from temple

Tumakuru: Tension prevailed for some time at Nitturu in Gubbi taluk when a priest refused to perform pooja for a Dalit family and sent them out of the temple on Wednesday. The video of priest Srikanth of the Mulukattamma temple persistently asking the family from which place they come from and after confirming their background, asking them to go out went viral. After an argument, he had also handed over the pooja materials to the family at the threshold of the temple. Gubbi circle police inspector Nadaf settled the issue amicably without filing an FIR, but warned the temple committee members to treat all people, including Dalits, equally. BOMMAI SAYS CONGRESS USED K'TAKA AS ATM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Ballari

RIPPING into the Congress for accusing the state BJP of "sending money filled with suitcases" to the party top brass, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday said it was the Congress high command that used Karnataka as an ATM while in power. Addressing the Jana Sankalpa Yatra at Hoovinahadagali on Thursday, Bommai said through their allegation, Congress leaders revealed their practice of paying to the central leaders. "But the BJP has no such culture. If there was any such practice or history of sending suitcases, it was the Congress," he charged.

The previous Congress government in the state was an ATM for five years and used to get money from Karnataka to spend for elections in other states, the CM said adding that the then government used to send suitcases by relentlessly looting Karnataka. "So, the Congress leaders have no moral right to accuse the BJP in this regard," he stressed.

"Because of feeding the high command with money, the KPCC president is facing inquiries. We feel pity for him. To protect the Congress high command, he is suffering," Bommai said.

Coming down heavily on the Gandhis, he said as the family members are coming to Ballari again, people of the district should ask Rahul Gandhi what his mother contributed for the district for getting her elected as MP. "Sonia Gandhi chose Raebareli over Ballari leaving the people of the district in the lurch. So people should send a message to the Gandhis that their lying will not be tolerated this time," he said.

Stating that the BJP lost Hoovinahadagali seat in the previous election because of its own mistake, Bommai appealed to party leaders to iron out differences between them and work in unity for the success of the party, whoever might be the candidate. He also made the local leader take an oath on working for the success of the party.

Minorities panel, ulema condemn sword rally

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE State Minorities Commission has officially condemned the provocative brandishing of swords, daggers and other weapons by minority community youths who were celebrating Eid Milad-un-Nabi in Siddapura, South Bengaluru. The Commission said that Muslims are being viewed with suspicion because of some people's misbehaviour.

Minorities Commission chairman and former MLC Abdul Azeem told TNIE, "I condemn the incident. It is disrespect to Prophet Mohammed and Islam. Only 2-5 per cent of members of the community do such things and bring disrepute to the entire community."

The ulema, too, termed the incident deplorable. Moulana Imran Rashadi, chief imam at Jumma Masjid, City Market, said he condemned such activities. "We had clearly appealed that there should be no procession. It is not necessary in Islam.''

KERALA HUMAN SACRIFICE

Court sends 3 accused to police custody till Oct 24

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

THE police are investigating whether more women have fallen prey to Mohammed Shafi, the mastermind and the first accused in the twin human sacrifice case, even as they received information that he had lured two students from Kochi to Elanthoor and raped them.

"Shafi is a sexual pervert who adopted different means, including black magic as in the instant case, to satiate his perversions. So a thorough investigation has to be conducted as to whether more people were sacrificed in a like manner, or more people were involved in the crime," said a report submitted by the special investigation team (SIT) probing the case before a Kochi court on Thusday, seeking custody of the accused.

The judicial first class magistrate court sent the three accused — Shafi, Bhagval Singh and Laila — to police custody till 5 pm on October 24.

ACCUSED DENY EATING VICTIMS' FLESH

KOCHI: The accused on Thursday dismissed the allegations that they have eaten the victims' flesh. "No. We haven't eaten the flesh," third accused Laila told reporters outside the Kakkanad district jail before she and her husband Bhagaval Singh, the second accused, were taken to the judicial first class magistrate court. Earlier, the police said the probe team was collecting evidence following information that the accused consumed the flesh of one of the victims.

Meanwhile, the SIT is collecting information about two students staying at a hostel in Kochi, who were suspected to be sexually harassed by Shafi, sources said. The two girls were frequent visitors at Adheen's restaurant run by Shafi near Shenoy's theatre.

"The information was passed to the SIT by a person close to Shafi whose statement was collected recently. Shafi took the duo to Elanthoor and raped them at Singh's residence. For the past one year, Shafi has been a frequent visitor at the house," a source said, adding once confirmed, further cases will be registered.

In the custody application, the SIT said the accused needed to be interrogated further to probe whether there were any other motives. "The gold ornaments of the deceased women are missing. It seems they have been sold or pledged by the accused. They are yet to be traced," the police said. Sources said the SIT later found that Shafi, after murdering Padmam, pledged her ornaments to a private lender.

K'taka shines, bags 88 medals in National Games

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

HERE is some good news for sports enthusiasts of Karnataka. The state has won 88 medals, including 27 gold, in the 36th National Games that concluded in Gujarat on Wednesday, and stood fourth in the medal tally. This is Karnataka's best performance at the games. And the Karnataka men's hockey team bagging gold after 21 years is the icing on the cake.

The state also bagged 23 silver and 38 bronze medals, and the first time that the state is in Top 5. According to the data shared by the Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports, the state's previous best performance was in 2007 when it won 71 medals, including 21 gold.

Speaking to TNIE, HN Gopalakrishna, commissioner, Directorate of Youth Empowerment and Sports, said, "We could achieve this because the state is stressing more on improving sports infrastructure and also other facilities given to sportspersons. The State Government had recently launched the Amrutha Kreeda scheme where Rs 10 lakh aid was given to 75 sportspersons each to avail coaching from abroad."

The government is now focussing on nurturing sporting talent from rural areas.

"Rs 504 crore has been set aside to develop more than 6,700 playgrounds, tracks, volleyball grounds and other infrastructure in rural areas, and works have already commenced under the MNREGA schemes in association with Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Department," he added. On appointment of coaches, he said that for the first time the department was recruiting 176 coaches to train sportspersons from rural areas.

"Of the 176, 50% reservation will be for candidates under sports quota and those who have taken part in national and international sporting events," he added. All these years, the department was depending on the Education Department to train PT teachers, he said. "But now, if we have our own experts, it will be of great help," the official said.

Stalker murders woman by pushing her in front of train

GAUTHAM SELVARAJAN @ Chennai

A 23-year-old man allegedly killed a college girl he was stalking by pushing her in front of an oncoming train at the St Thomas Mount Railway Station in Chennai on Thursday afternoon.

The parents of the victim, M Sathya (20), had filed a complaint at the Mambalam police station a few weeks ago against the accused, D Sathish, who had allegedly been stalking the woman for two years. However, sources said police let off Sathish, whose father Dayalan is a retired sub-inspector, with a warning.

On Thursday around 12.45pm, eyewitnesses told The New Indian Express Sathish started an argument with Sathya as she was waiting for the train with a friend.

As a train entered the station, Sathya rose from the bench and walked towards the track. Sathish followed her. As the train neared them, Sathish allegedly deliberately tripped her and pushed her in front of the Chennai Beach-bound train from Tambaram. Sathya fell on the tracks and the train ran over her.

"I had come to the spot to charge my phone. Both of them were arguing. All of a sudden, the man tripped her and pushed her in front of the train. People tried to catch hold of him but he escaped," said a sanitary worker at the station.

Sathya, a resident of Alandur in Chennai, was a second-year college student and had come to the station to board a train for her afternoon classes at her college in T Nagar. Her mother is a head constable and a few of her aunts and uncles are police personnel.

She got engaged last month. Sathish too hails from Alandur and is a Class 8 dropout.

Within hours of getting bank notice, fish seller wins ₹70 lakh lottery

RAHUL R @Kollam

FORTY-year-old fish seller Pookunju will never forget October 12 in his life. He is yet to come to terms with the turn of incidents that unfolded in a span of hours.

At 2pm on Thursday, he was served a bank attachment notice as he had been unable to pay back a loan amount of around ₹12 lakh. One-and-a-half hours later, he checked the Kerala Lottery results online. To his surprise, he found he had won ₹70-lakh Akshaya lottery prize.

A resident of Kollam Mynagappally's Edavanassery, Pookunju goes around on his motorcycle selling fish to support his family. Eight years ago, he took a loan of Rs 7.45 lakh from Corporation Bank to build a house. Since then, he has been struggling to pay back the loan amount. Now, he has an outstanding dues of about ₹12 lakh, including the interest. On getting the bank's attachment notice, he was worried that he was on the verge of losing his house.

Pookunju told The New Indian Express over the phone that his family and he were in the midst of a severe financial crisis and the situation worsened during the lockdown period.

His father Yusuf Kunju buys lottery tickets regularly. Taking a cue from his father, Pookunju also started buying lottery tickets. "I started taking lottery tickets when my financial situation worsened. Till now, I had won only ₹2,000-₹10,000."

HUMAN SACRIFICE PROGRESSIVE KERALA's MOMENT OF SHAME

Kerala recoiled in shame and disgust when the news of human sacrifice and suspected cannibalism at a village in the Pathanamthitta district broke on Tuesday morning. The horrendous act, ostensibly to appease the gods for financial prosperity, sounded incomprehensible for the logic of a civilised mind. And yet it happened in a state that basks in the glory of its renaissance past and progressive outlook. The gruesome murders of two middle-aged women have exposed the inherent contradictions of a modern and literate society that claims to have set standards for others to emulate. The incident proves that diabolic and brutish elements can comfortably coexist with a progressive, even revolutionary, mindset.

The process of civilisation cannot entirely wipe out the animalistic instincts lurking in the human psyche, which can only be reined in or held back. Kerala has a glorious past of uncompromised fighting against inhuman practices. Towering figures such as Sree Narayana Guru, Vagbhadananda, and Sanaullah Makthi Thangal cleansed the traces of viciousness that were sedimented in religion. For them, religion was the path through which human beings were elevated to a higher plane, not a platform to engage in meaningless rituals. For them, God was not a sadist who showered blessings on those who spilled the blood of the innocents but a benevolent entity whose mercy encompassed all living things.

The vigil these figures instilled in society against superstitions has gradually weakened. Renaissance has become a chapter in social studies textbooks—a nostalgic memory that can be conveniently recalled in academic seminars. There were outbursts of moral indignation against human sacrifice from various corners and a hue and cry for a law to ban such practices. There have been several attempts to enact an anti-superstition law, but all failed for lack of intent from a political class afraid of hurting sentiments and losing votes. Kerala's atmosphere has become conducive to the proliferation of dubious 'god people' and sorcerers who thrive on people's greed for instant power and wealth. Not all those hoodwinked are illiterate and ignorant. The race to get rich and famous makes all sections vulnerable to evil designs. Laws have a limited scope to tackle the challenge. What is imperative is to bring the spirit of inquiry and scientific temper of the renaissance back to public discourse and make a clear distinction between the sacred and absurd.

STRINGENT RULES TO STOP ROAD BLOOD-SPILL

The IIT Madras-hosted National Scientific Road Safety Conclave with stakeholders from government and industry on October 11 unveiled new technological applications to ensure road safety. The hosts also launched a new driver licencing process called '3 Gate Licencing' (3GL). It provides an objective way of measuring drivers' behaviour, their knowledge of road safety and driving etiquette to practice the learnt theory in a simulator and on-road driving conditions before getting a valid driving licence. The conclave launched a hackathon to develop a system for improving road safety by alerting traffic violators and helping enforcement agencies detect offenders using technological solutions. A 'Train the Trainer' programme was also flagged off for school bus drivers, aimed at positively influencing schoolchildren who directly experience the quality of driving by the bus drivers.

Technological intervention is much needed. It aids in achieving road safety goals. But alongside, the functioning of the regional transport offices across India should be given top priority. Most road accidents across India are due to driving errors and driver negligence. The enforcement agencies are not ignorant of this but turn a blind eye towards it.

First, the quality of driving skills is hugely influenced by how a driver is trained. It is the responsibility of the driving instructor to ensure that the pupils adhere to the road safety rules and safe driving practices. Next is the driving test at the RTOs. But this is where the problem arises. Most motor driving schools are in a nexus with the RTOs. Let alone a stringent method of identifying who deserves a driving licence, there are no proper medical and psychological tests that the candidates are subjected to. The result is undeserving and potentially dangerous individuals ending up with driving licences, whose bad driving ends up killing or maiming people on the roads.

A point that came up at the road safety conclave was that enforcement, while important in road safety, loses its value because of a lack of effective deterrence. Therefore, technology to strengthen deterrence needs to be adopted by the traffic police. And importantly, a potential motorist's history must be vetted before issuing a driving licence. These must be implemented on a war footing to stop blood from spilling on Indian roads.

QUICK TAKE

NOTE BAN NOT ACADEMIC ISSUE

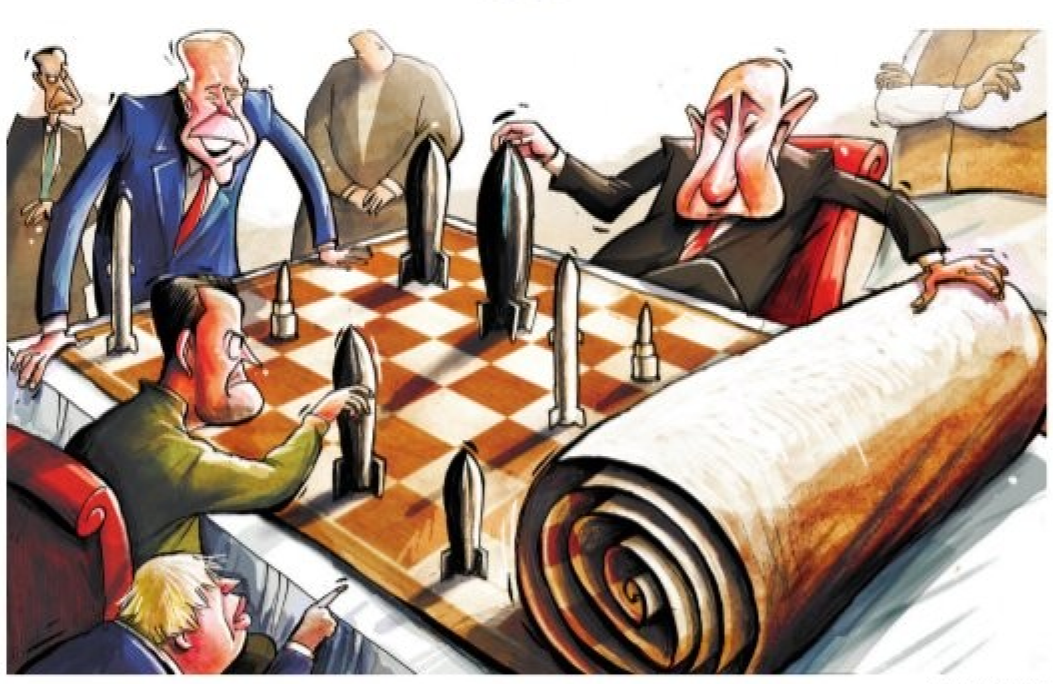
The Supreme Court correctly decides to examine various aspects of the Centre's demonetisation order of 2016. Better late than never, considering the petitions challenging the ban get a hearing only now. The state argues the matter is academic. It cannot be, considering the reported deaths of people standing in queues to withdraw money and nationwide hardships because of difficulties in accessing one's cash. Though mindful of the 'Lakshman Rekha' in economic policy, the apex court can ask uncomfortable questions to the government on whether the implementation was unreasonable and whether limits on withdrawing cash violate rights to equality and livelihood.

Putin is using nuclear blackmail knowing it is risky but this one threat can dismay developed European societies

UKRAINE: A LONG WAR WHICH IS GETTING MURKIER

LT GEN SYED ATA HASNAIN (RETD)

Former Commander, Srinagar-based 15 Corps. Now Chancellor, Central University



SOUMYADIP SINHA

With the damage caused to the Kerch Strait Bridge to prevent the Russian logistics approach to the Crimean Peninsula, Ukraine may have achieved a short-term tactical plus but has escalated the war into a new domain. The event has had a psychological effect that will affect the future course of the war. Russia has suddenly upped the ante in artillery engagements as a response. Whether this is thought through or a knee-jerk military reaction to cater to home-based Russian morale remains unclear. The chances of Special Forces getting into the act for sabotage of infrastructure becomes a greater possibility.

For a long time, I had been warning that Ukrainian offensive operations are not large enough to be classified as classic counter-offensives, which will extend Ukraine's frontages to depths from where artillery engagements will be difficult to achieve by Russia. Those in the know of modern artillery capabilities would explain how extended ranges have made artillery an even more important arm than it has been throughout the history of warfare. With missiles and satellite surveillance, gunners need no physical observation of the battlefield either; virtual is good enough. Then there are drones to which we could devote a chapter.

So, the war, which was expected to last a few days or a few weeks, is slowly getting into its ninth month, and there are few signals of it ending. Many factors are at play; each needs a brief dissection for its potential effect. It starts with Russia's assessed military defeat, which appears to have the least credibility. Calling up of reserves and returning many of them by Russia does not appear to indicate any signs of defeat; setbacks and non-achievement of war objectives should not construe defeat at this stage. The conduct of the Donbas referendums reflects the Russian hold over that region, the results being unimportant. Unacceptable as they may be to NATO and Ukraine, they reflect that Donetsk, Luhansk, Kherson and Zaporizhzhia remain Russian for now. The entire coast of the Black Sea is being denied to Ukraine, whose economy depends on the sea outlets for its massive grain trade and the output of its heavy and precision hardware industry that make up its economy. The Russians are unlikely to compromise on the maritime front.

The Black Sea's strategic psychological value for Russia has remained under-assessed for long. It's the access into the heart of the Euro–North Africa–West Asia maritime complex girdling the Indian Ocean–Mediterranean connection, which is a great strategic advantage for Russia. The long and the short of it is that President Vladimir Putin may have failed to attain offensive objectives on land, but his defensive fronts are not entirely compromised.

Much depends on that one term that rarely finds place in the repertoire of military terminologies—'war stamina'. Europe is under pressure with rising fuel prices and wilting economies. The foundations of security and energy infrastructure are being shaken. Germany, the richest nation there, had invested in making its reliance on energy from Russia a part of its economic imperatives. It is now straining, as are others. US funds are being pumped into the efforts to maintain the Ukrainian arms, ammunition and training supply chains which have been largely responsible for Ukraine's survivability and now the operational gains. These will have to be sustained over time should Putin continue with his strategy of bleeding Europe—ironically, a reversal of the effect of European and other sanction protocols.

However, NATO is reaching the end of its tether, with stockpiles having eroded and manufacturing of modern weapons not keeping up with the consumption end. This is having an adverse effect on the minimum stocks that NATO requires for its own security. Putin is aware of this. Threats, deception and unpredictability are his allies in such a situation, forcing Ukraine to expend out-of-proportion resources, which has a telling effect on the origins of the supply chain. Reports also indicate that demands could be made on India, despite India's well-known neutrality in this war and its dependence for its own heavy weaponry on Russia.

The nuclear factor is now beginning to become more serious. Firstly, the use of even a tactical nuke initiated on a battlefield is likely to change the face of this war. Remember the last time an impending nuclear confrontation was brought to heel was the 10-day crisis of the Bay of Pigs, also called the Cuban Missile Crisis, in 1962. Putin is brazenly using nuclear blackmail and knows it's a risk. Yet he is taking it because he knows that this is one threat that can dismay developed European societies who lived through it during the Cold War. The US continuously monitors this threat and has substantially concluded that, thus far, it is a credible bluff, but US President Joe Biden has not been conservative with his words which promise a massive response.

For public knowledge, it's good to know that in the nuclear weapon environment, it's not a question of retaliation with equal yields. A tactical nuclear weapon may have a very limited target effect, but the larger strategic message of its use is the existence of brazenness and throwing of caution to the winds that lead to escalation. Eminent strategic thinkers in India are beginning to look upon PM Narendra Modi's advice to President Putin—"Now is not the time for war", as the initiator which can help intervene and put an end to the wielding of the Russian nuclear sword. There now appears to be a larger-than-life effect of that meeting and those few words that PM Modi spoke.

So, is this war likely to end anytime soon? NATO appears confident that Russia cannot win and knows this well enough. The Russians are convinced that European unity cannot last and that the compromise in economic and energy security will bring Europe to its knees. These are the ingredients for a no-decision syndrome. Warfighting may reduce substantially through winter, but the targeting of infrastructure and military bases to erode capability will continue. The targeting of the Kerch Strait Bridge seems to have opened up a new dimension of the proxy war. Conventional war could take a back seat, and irregular operations form the bulk of the contacts. That would be entering an uncharted realm one could only contemplate at the beginning of the war. It has been largely forgotten since then, and its return only enhances unpredictability, which will elongate the war and find dirtier ways to fight it.

PAVING THE ROAD FOR ELECTIONS IN KASHMIR

SANDIP GHOSE

Current affairs commentator

In the chatter and optics of several political extravaganzas simultaneously playing across the country, the visit of the Union Home Minister—Amit Shah—to Jammu and Kashmir last week did not receive commensurate attention. It was significant in multiple ways, apart from the symbolism of the rally in Baramulla, the first in 35 years by any union cabinet minister. By all accounts, the turnout was impressive. As per some, it was arguably one of the largest gatherings Baramulla has seen in a long time. Just the day before the rally, the home minister had announced in Rajouri—reservations for Gujjar, Bakerwal and Pahari communities, and this was seen positively as the Centre's commitment to fulfil its promises. The process of electoral roll finalisation is expected to be over before the end of the year, with a high probability of elections being held in the first half of 2023.

No doubt the road from here to restoration of statehood will be difficult and strewn with booby traps. But the progress since the abrogation of Article 370 in 2019 is not visible to people in mainland India amidst reports of sporadic terror attacks and the international narrative on human rights in the valley. However, the fact is that life is slowly but surely returning towards normalcy. According to Reuters, Kashmir received 1.62 crore tourists this year, which is the highest in 75 years. The recent reopening of cinema halls in Srinagar after a hiatus of 32 years, with new multiplex theatres, is another sign of regaining public confidence in the improving law and order situation. Fingers crossed—former residents of the valley who have been to Kashmir lately, say they have not seen this level of "normalcy" in over three decades.

These are positives to be built on for economic revival of the territory—because ultimately, nothing works like commerce. It seems voting rights of about 5 lakh Kashmiri Pandits who had left the valley are likely to be restored in the revised electoral rolls. However, the government should eschew the temptation of reversing the demographic trend and instead work on mainstreaming the current population with the mainland and the rest of the world by leveraging trade and tourism.

There has been loads of criticism about the Central government's handling of Kashmir since it became a Union Territory. This was not only on civil liberty issues but also in terms of its overall strategy. As one would have expected, both Pakistan and some local Kashmiri political interests managed to escalate matters at international fora, seeking international intervention. However, the Indian government was able to ward them off with deft diplomacy. But surely, everything was not done right. It was said that the Narendra Modi government was repeating mistakes of the past, relying on the same old carrot and stick formula, and playing into the hands of corrupt double-agents who had made a business out of the Kashmir impasse. Be that as it may, the political and security establishment in Delhi never took their eyes off the situation, moving as per a plan with necessary course corrections periodically.

PTI

> No doubt the road from here to restoration of statehood will be difficult and strewn with booby traps ... However, the fact is that life is slowly but surely returning towards normalcy

The reason for this unwavering focus is that a lot of Narendra Modi's and the BJP's political capital rides on Kashmir. Leaving aside the rhetoric of "Akhand Bharat", Modi understands that India's geopolitical stability is inseparable from Kashmir. Some felt that in the past, the ruling dispensations in Delhi found it expedient to live with an unstable equilibrium in Kashmir despite the huge costs it was inflicting on the nation at large. However, the Modi government cannot afford an Israeli "West Bank" kind of situation with regard to Pakistan occupied Kashmir (PoK). Without achieving at least a working solution, it would waste tons of political, diplomatic and military resources on Kashmir. This will hurt India financially and also compromise on its security interests, with China breathing down its neck in Ladakh. Both these factors together can have a huge impact on the BJP's political ambitions, which may compel Modi to step on the gas and put Kashmir on the fast lane in the run up to the 2024 elections.

Acceleration does not mean military intervention, though sections of the BJP's domestic constituents would love to see a macho approach, even if it means a limited armed engagement. But geopolitics does not work that way and the world would be alarmed by such a move—especially in the light of the Russia-Ukraine conflict and instability in Afghanistan closer to home.

Yet, this may be an opportune time for India to seek a diplomatic breakthrough with Pakistan when the latter is reeling under its own pressures and the West is preoccupied with having a bit more than it can chew on in Ukraine. China will remain the odd neighbour out, especially with its ongoing internal power play in which India can be a useful distraction. But Russia never felt more indebted to India for the support it has received regarding Ukraine. However, for the global community to maintain a neutral stand, India will have to ensure that their basic expectations on restoration of democracy and civil liberties are visibly met.

This makes it imperative to hold elections in a free, fair, and transparent manner. However, the 'X-Factor' in that would be which party or coalition comes to power. The old mainstream Kashmiri parties—namely the National Conference (NC) and People's Democratic Party (PDP)—stand comprehensively discredited. Delimitation will further weaken them, so they are desperately trying to remain relevant. Ghulam Nabi Azad's Democratic Azad Party (DAP) may occupy part of the space vacated by them.

But to achieve a real watershed moment, the current administration will have to create a congenial atmosphere—for the emergence of new nationalistic players who are aligned to the idea of Kashmir as an integral part of the Indian Union, no questions asked.

Manipur publishing curbs

This is with reference to the column, Manipur book curb another story of tyrant and jester (Oct 13). The Manipur government's decision is debatable. On the one hand, the government is restricting false information before publication, but on the other hand, this will restrict fruitful criticism. The censorship will lead to writers adapting to the rules of the government, thereby limiting their freedom to critically analyse the policies of the same.

Govt must be firm

The incident in Kerala where two women were killed in a black magic ritual clearly shows that there are still believers of superstitions in our country. This issue will not be solved unless the government is firm in its resolve and takes strict actions to stop such incidents from repeating.

Sachin Ambros, Bengaluru

Punish those guilty

The Kerala police deserves solid praise for solving the twin murders in Pathanamthitta in such a short span of time. It is their moment of pride. The guilty deserve capital punishment. Going forward, the government must enforce strict laws to ensure that such practices do not ever take place again.

Dada's fate

This is with reference to the news, Dada offered no stroke to political ball, offer dropped (Oct 13). It is sad to read that Sourav Ganguly was ousted as BCCI chief after he did not commit to joining the BJP. Such pressure tactics are not in the best interests of democracy. Even in the erstwhile Soviet Union, only those who were USSR sympathisers enjoyed privileges. Ultimately, the USSR sank.

Dr M Haneef, Kottayam

Ganguly ousted

Sourav Ganguly has been dropped as BCCI chief because he allegedly refused to join the BJP. Name and fame play a major role in the political arena. Ganguly played the game safely. If the act of using celebrities in politics to defraud the public needs to be stopped, the public needs to become politically literate.

Student suicide

The incident where a student committed suicide after his teacher ended their relationship is tragic. One of the first things a teacher learns is to treat students with care and respect. The teacher who indulged in this relationship is unfit to be a teacher and she must forfeit her degrees.

PCC chiefs backing Kharge: Tharoor

'Some PCC chiefs even had meetings in Kharge's favour, it disturbed the level playing field'

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

Shashi Tharoor addresses a press conference in New Delhi | PARVEEN NEGI

> Some leaders openly came out in support of Mallikarjun Kharge and even summoned meetings in his favour... it disturbed the level-playing field
>
> Shashi Tharoor, Congress leader and presidential poll candidate

AHEAD of the Congress Presidential elections, Lok Sabha MP Shashi Tharoor fired another salvo at his opponents alleging that he is facing 'differential treatment' from some of the state chiefs during his campaigning. The AICC presidential election, which is taking place after a long gap of over two decades, is scheduled for October 17.

Tharoor, who is in the capital to seek votes from Delhi Pradesh Congress Committee (DPCC), also reiterated his claim of an 'uneven playing field' in the party's internal elections. The Thiruvananthapuram MP, who is pitted against senior leader Mallikarjun Kharge, lamented that several PCC chiefs and senior leaders were not available during his visits to those states.

"Some PCC chiefs even had meetings in Kharge's favour and it disturbed the level playing field," he said. .. Recently, Tharoor openly spoke about how senior leaders were conspicuously missing during his campaigning in Kerala and Tamil Nadu. Many senior leaders in Kerala — the home turf of Tharoor — including former Union Minister A K Antony, KPCC President K Sudhakaran, and former Opposition leader Ramesh Chennithala have spoken in favour of Kharge. Chennithala has been accompanying Kharge to some states for campaigning too.

Tharoor had also raised complaints with the central election authority Madhusudan Mistry regarding poll code violations citing the endorsement of Kharge by several PCC chiefs for the president post. The CEC, last week, had issued strict guidelines barring Congress office bearers from campaigning in favor of any candidates.

Tharoor also said that he was unable to meet many delegates as their contact details were 'missing' from the list. "There were incomplete contact details in the list of delegates that we received. Some lists had names but no contact numbers, some had names but no proper address," he said. In an interview with this paper, Tharoor said that the contact details of only 10 per cent of out of 9,000 delegates were available to him. However, he said that he did not blame anyone as the election is being held after 22 years.

Responding to Tharoor's remarks, Kharge reiterated that there was no difference between them. "We are brothers. Someone can speak in a different manner, I can do it in a different way," he said.

Meanwhile, another leader, who was a part of ginger group called G-23, and supported Kharge's candidature, told this paper that Tharoor was trying to consolidate his political capital through this campaign. The leader also claimed that instead of contacting voters, Tharoor has been holding public meetings and events to further his popularity. Tharoor was part of the G-23 group, which sought deep reforms in the party. Most of Tharoor's colleagues in the group, including Anand Sharma, Bhupinder Singh Hooda, Prithviraj Chavan, and Manish Tewari have endorsed Kharge's candidature.

'Efforts being made to stop Tharoor from meeting voters'

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

BACKING Shashi Tharoor's claims of an 'uneven playing field' in the party's internal election, Congress MP from Assam, Pradyut Bordoloi said that the current leadership is rallying behind Tharoor's opponent Mallikarjun Kharge.

Bordoloi, who had extended support to Tharoor, also said that he is putting up a spirited fight despite the odds against him. Bordoloi said that there are several reasons to believe that Kharge is the favoured candidate of the top brass.

"When Kharge arrived in Assam for campaigning, the AICC general secretary in charge of Assam, accompanied him in the same flight. It's not an impartial gesture and goes against the spirit of the election," said Bordoloi. Five MPs including Bordoloi and Tharoor had written to the Congress election authority about the need for free and fair elections.

Bordoloi, one of the proposers of Tharoor's candidature, rued that efforts are being made to stop Tharoor from meeting voters. "Anywhere you go, one can feel that Tharoor is playing on an uneven pitch," he said.

The leader also said that he is ready to face consequences, if any, for rooting for Tharoor.

Pak using CICA platform for anti-India propaganda: Lekhi

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

> Pakistan has chosen to once again misuse the CICA platform to propagate false and malicious propaganda against my country and distract from the theme and focus of Thursday's discussions and cooperation among member states
>
> Meenakshi Lekhi, Minister of State for External Affairs

INDIA said on Thursday that it desired normal relations with all its neighbours, including Pakistan, and advised Islamabad to create a conducive atmosphere, including by taking "credible, verifiable and irreversible actions" to not allow any territory under its control to be used for cross border terrorism against it.

Minister of State for External Affairs Meenakashi Lekhi said this while addressing the 6th Summit of the Conference on Interaction and Confidence Building Measures in Asia (CICA) in Astana, Kazakhstan.

"Pakistan has chosen to once again misuse the CICA platform to propagate false and malicious propaganda against my country and distract from the theme and focus of Thursday's discussions and cooperation among member states. The Union Territories of Jammu and Kashmir and Ladakh have been and will remain an integral part of India. Pakistan has no locus standi to comment on India's internal affairs,'' Lekhi, who was sent as India's special envoy, said during the 6th CICA Summit which was attended by 11 heads of states which included Russian President Vladimir Putin and Turkey's President Recep Tayyip Erdogan.

There are 27 CICA members states which include Azerbaijan, Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bahrain, Vietnam, Egypt, Israel, India, Jordan, Iraq, Iran, Kazakhstan, Cambodia, Qatar, Kyrgyzstan, China, Mongolia, UAE, Pakistan, Palestine, South Korea, Russia, Tajikistan, Thailand, Turkey, Uzbekistan and Sri Lanka. Nine more states and five international organizations participate as observers. The CICA headquarters has been located in Astana since 2014. India went further to add that Pakistan's remarks constituted gross interference in India's internal affairs, sovereignty and territorial integrity which is inconsistent with the CICA Declaration on the Principles Guiding Relations between the CICA Member States of September 1999.

"Pakistan is the global epicentre of terrorism and continues to be the source of terrorist activities including in India. Pakistan continues to make no investment in human development but provides their resources for creating and sustaining infrastructure of terrorism. Pakistan must immediately cease anti-India cross-border terrorism and shut down its infrastructure of terrorism. It will do well to stop the grave and persistent human rights violations in Pakistan occupied Jammu, Kashmir & Ladakh, refrain from effecting any further material changes in the status of PoJKL and vacate the Indian territories that are under its illegal and forcible occupation,'' Lekhi added. Pakistan's Prime Minister, Shehbaz Sharif accused India of human rights abuse and said that Kashmir is manifested of bullet being a preferred Indian policy than ballot. He also said he wanted to return to a meaningful dialogue with India. "I am absolutely ready and willing to have a serious dialogue and discussion with our counterparts, Indians, provided that they show sincerity of purpose and they show that they are ready to discuss issues that have really kept us at a distance over decades,'' Sharif said in his address.

Lekhi also said that India desired normal relations with its neighbours, including Pakistan. "Pakistan is thereby advised to walk the talk by creating a conducive atmosphere, including by taking credible, verifiable and irreversible actions to not allow any territory under its control to be used for cross border terrorism against India in any manner.

Flutter as Guj AAP head is detained for a few hours

UJWAL JALALI @ New Delhi

THE Delhi Police on Thursday questioned Gopal Italia, the president of the Aam Aadmi Party's Gujarat unit, for nearly three hours after his supporters allegedly created a ruckus outside the office of the National Commission for Women.

The NCW had summoned Italia in connection with his alleged deregatory remarks against Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his mother, which the Commision said was an insult to all women.

The AAP leader reached the NCW's office along with his supporters, prompting chairperson Rekha Sharma to call the police. "All the Aam Aadmi Party hooligans are outside my office creating ruckus," she tweeted along with a picture of them staging a protest.

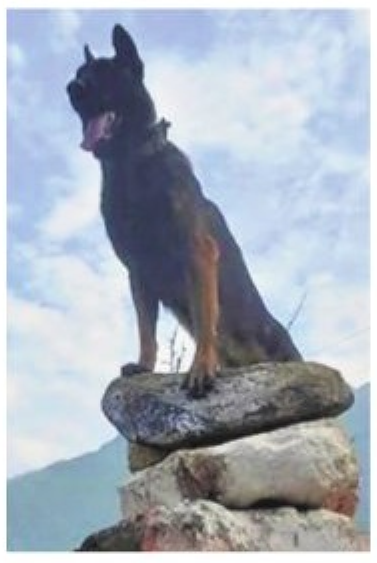
After NCW's questioning was over, Delhi Police personnel took Italia to the nearby Sarita Vihar police station. He was released later. The police said the AAP leader was not detained. "He was just called for questioning as his supporters created ruckus outside the NCW office," Deputy Commissioner of Police (southeast) Esha Pandey told this paper.

Later, Italia claimed in a media briefing that he was abused and threatened by the NCW chairperson but was not asked anything about the notice.

However, the NCW chairperson refuted the allegations.

INJURED ARMY CANINE 'ZOOM' PASSES AWAY

MAYANK SINGH @NewDelhi



ARMY'S feisty Assault canine "Zoom" lost its battle against the injuries on Thursday. Zoom was admitted at Armed Forces Veterinary Hospital, Srinagar, on Monday after terrorists shot it twice. It was operated upon as it had a gunshot wound on the face and in rear right leg.

An officer in Srinagar said, "Our Army dog Zoom, who was under treatment at 54 Armed Force Veterinary Hospital, died around 12 noon. Apparently it was improving and responding well and looked fine till around 11.45 when it suddenly started gasping and soon collapsed."

Zoom was tasked with clearing the house where terrorists were hiding. The dog went inside the house and attacked the militants. During the operation, the canine was shot twice and suffered critical injuries. The dog, however, continued his task, which resulted in the killing of two terrorists.

Indian Army condoled the passing away of its canine. The Northern Command in its tweet message said, "Army Commander Northern Command condoles the death of Assault Dog 'Zoom'. Injured in line of duty in operation at Tangpawa #Ananatnag, he finally breathed his last on October 13. A real hero in service to the #Nation."

Zoom, a Melanois or Belgian Shepherd was born in September 2020 and joined the Army's 28 Army Dog Unit and had a service of eight months with him. The Army has 32 units out of which there are 19 dog units serving in the Northern Command. Each canine unit has 24 dogs of different specialties.

The Army Dogs are trained at the Dog Training Facility based at Remount Veterinary College, Meerut. The dogs are imparted skills in obedience and advanced training in specialist tasks like assault, patrolling, guarding, tracking, avalanche rescue operation, sniffing (explosive and mine detection).

SC to begin hearing on electoral bonds today

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

AFTER months, the Supreme Court will hear the case filed by the Association for Democratic Reforms (ADR) related to the anonymous electoral bonds scheme on Friday.

The pleas are listed before the bench of Justices BR Gavai and BV Nagarathna.

When the petition was last listed on March 26, 2021, the bench led by the then CJI had refused to stay the release of the fresh set of electoral bonds from April 1 for the Assembly polls in West Bengal, Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Assam and Puducherry. The court had said that since the bonds were allowed to be released in 2018, 2019, 2020 without interruption and there were sufficient safeguards, there was justification to not stay them at the moment.

"The apprehension that foreign corporate houses may buy the bonds and attempt to influence the electoral process in the country is also misconceived. Under Clause 3 of the Scheme, the bonds may be purchased only by a person, who is a citizen of India or incorporated or established in India," the SC in its order had said.

The SC in 2019 by introducing an interim safeguard had asked all political parties to submit details of receipts of the electoral bonds to the Election Commission of India (ECI) in a sealed cover. The system of electoral bonds was introduced by way of a money bill by amendments in the Finance Act and the Representation of Peoples Act.

The ADR in the petitions had argued that such an anonymous route of funding amounted to legitimising bribery as corporates could fund the party in power in a state or Centre as a matter of quid pro quo.

Striking on the repercussions of the system on democracy, the petitions had also asserted that the scheme had opened floodgates to unlimited corporate donations to political parties and anonymous financing by Indian as well as foreign companies.

"These donations enjoy 100 per cent tax exemption and even foreign companies can donate through Indian subsidiaries," the petitioner added.

The petition had also contended that the identity of the donors could never be known to the public and referred to reservations raised by the Reserve Bank of India and Election Commission to the Scheme.

A-G gets 2 weeks for 'order' on Aadhaar to NRC-listed persons

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday granted two weeks to the Attorney General to seek instructions on a PIL filed by Rajya Sabha MP Sushmita Dev seeking issuance of Aadhaar cards to nearly 27 lakh people listed as doubtful citizens in the National Register of Citizens (NRC) of Assam.

A bench of CJI UU Lalit and Justice Bela Trivedi in their order said, "AG is granted two weeks time to seek appropriate instructions in the matter. He may put in the note so that issues in the matter can be concentrated & resolved. List the matter after three weeks."

In April 2022, the bench had sought response from the Central government, Registrar General of India, Unique Identification Authority of India and the State of Assam. "Once person has been registered under the NRC, whether it be in the Final Draft List or the Supplementary List, they will be entitled to the same benefits as that of a citizen of India, and there exists no intelligible differentia between persons whose names appears in the NRC," the plea said.

It was argued in the plea that non-issuance of Aadhaar numbers to the people in the final list dated August 31, 2019 had created a class within a class. It added that people in the final supplementary list were being treated differently from people whose names had appeared in the first draft list on Dec. 31, 2017.

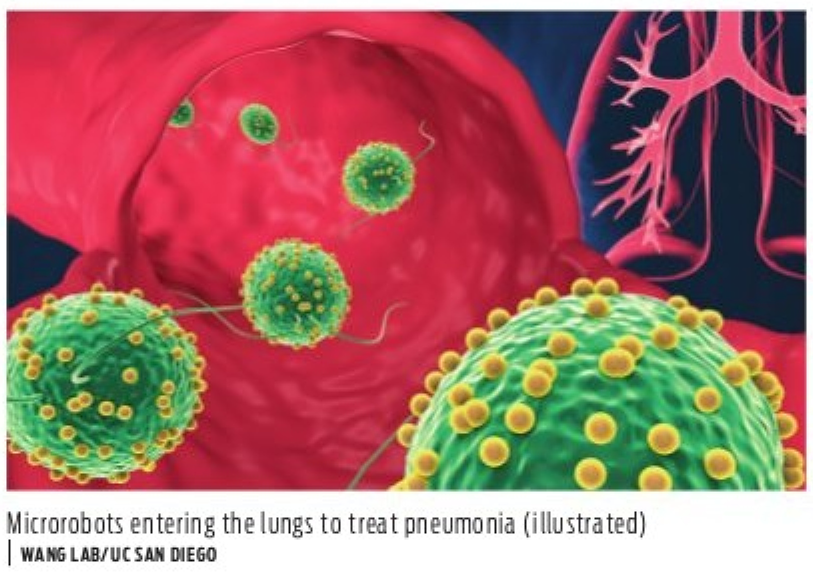
HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY!

If you have been brought up constantly bombarded with the adage "Honesty is the best policy", this research will surprise you. New findings have shown that adults judge the blunt truth-tellers among children more harshly than those who lie or tell vague truths to be polite. According to a study at Texas State University, "Children are learning about honesty in a quite complicated manner. It appears to be an important social skill to lie to fit in with other's expectations, but this is despite potential conflicting messages from their adult caregivers that it is wrong to lie...."

MICRO-'COMMANDOS' ON MISSION TO KILL BACTERIAL PNEUMONIA



Microrobots entering the lungs to treat pneumonia (illustrated) | WANG LAB/UC SAN DIEGO

A research at University of California San Diego is ushering in a method to eliminate bacterial pneumonia that is common among patients receiving mechanical ventilation in intensive care units. The researchers have developed microbots (or microscopic robots) which are sent into the affected lungs from a tube through the wind-pipe to deliver medication and kill the bacteria, called Pseudomonas aeruginosa. So far, the researchers have successfully used this method in mice affected by this bacterial pneumonia. The antibiotics delivered directly into the lungs completely eliminated the pneumonia, recording 100 per cent survival among the mice treated through this method. On the other hand, the mice left untreated died within three days. The research was published in Nature Materials.

AN ALL-WEATHER FABRIC TO KEEP YOU WARM IN WINTER, COOL IN SUMMER

Clothes made out of this smart fabric may well allow you to wear all-weather garments that will ensure you remain warm in winter and cool in summer — without changing! Materials scientists from Institute for Fibre Engineering at Shinshu University in Japan have designed an advanced textile with nano-scale threads. These contain a phase-change material, combining the threads with electrothermal (generating heat through electricity) and photothermal (increasing temperature using light) coatings. This enhances the effect for the fabric that can quickly cool those wearing it when exposed to heat and warm them up when exposed to cold. This fabric, when commercialised and popularised, will come in handy for workers in a range of occupations when exposed to extreme heat or cold.

For instance, firefighters and those working in steel forges or cold storages could find wearing this fabric at work a boon to keep their bodies exposed to convenient temperatures. If they are exposed to sudden temperature changes, they remain vulnerable to injuries.

At Guj rally, Shah blames Nehru for Kashmir imbroglio

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @Ahmedabad

IT seems former Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru will reverberate as election issue in upcoming Gujarat Assembly polls. The ruling BJP is already targeting the main Opposition Congress for the country's first Prime Minister's role in keeping the Kashmir conflict alive.

On Thursday, Union Home Minister Amit Shah, while addressing a gathering in Unnai, a tribal area in South Gujarat, held Nehru responsible for the Kashmir problem and congratulated PM Modi for solving it through abrogation of Article 370.

Earlier on October 10, PM Modi during his visit to Gujarat had said without mentioning Nehru's name that "Sardar Patel resolved issues of merger of erstwhile princely states, but Kashmir was handled by "one person" and that's why Kashmir issue remained unresolved." Modi also said that he was able to resolve the long-pending Kashmir issue as he is walking in the footsteps of Sardar Patel.

Union Home Minister Amit Shah was addressing a public gathering at Unnai Mata temple, a popular religious place in Vansda taluka of Navsari district. He flagged off two Gaurav Yatras at Unnai temple, one of which will travel to Ambaji temple in north Gujarat and then across the entire tribal belt of eastern Gujarat.

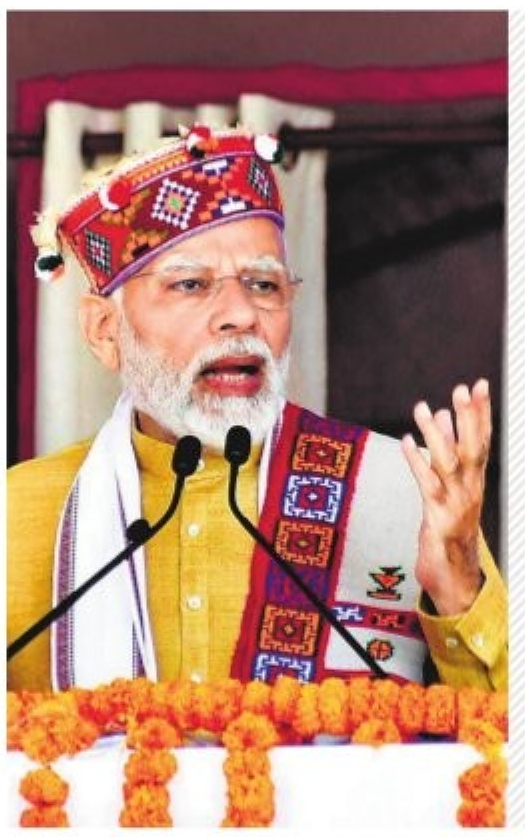
Addressing the gathering, Shah Said, "Due to the mistake of Jawaharlal Nehru, the issue of Kashmir was not resolved and because of Article 370, Kashmir had a separate Constitution. PM Modi on 5 Aug 2019 removed Article 370 in one stroke and merged Kashmir with India forever."

He further elaborated about Kashmir and Article 370. "At the time of removal of Article 370 in J&K, SP, BSP, Farooq Abdullah and Mehbooba Mufti were threatening that if it is repealed, 'Koon Ki Nadia Bahe Jayengi' (there will be bloodshed), but Modi acted in such a way that no one dared to lift even a single stone," he said.

Previous govts failed Himachal: PM

Says basic facilities have not been provided to people of hill state, bats for 'double-engine'

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh



ANNOUNCES MAJOR PROJECTS

- Fourth Vande Bharat Express train from Amb Andaura, Una, to New Delhi flagged off from Una station.
- Foundation stone for a bulk drug park laid in Una
- Indian Institute of Information Technology (IIIT) inaugurated in the same city
- Foundation stone of two hydropower projects - the 48 MW Chanju-III Hydro-electric
- Foundation stone of two hydropower projects laid in Chamba
- The Gram Sadak Yojana (PMGSY)-III to be upgraded in about 3,125 km of roads in the state

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday blamed previous governments for not providing people with some of the basic facilities that were available elsewhere in the world. He reiterated the 'double-engine' development concept, saying it has worked for the progress of the people. This was Modi's ninth visit to the state in the last five years.

The PM was addressing a public gathering at Himachal Pradesh's Una. "Previous governments in Himachal Pradesh paid no attention to the needs and aspirations of the citizens of the state," he said.

"It is our mothers and sisters who have suffered the most because of such a situation," he added.

"We are not only filling the gulf of development left by the previous governments but also building a strong foundation of the state," he added.

He pointed out that some states such as his home state Gujarat had managed to provide its citizens basic amenities such as toilet facilities, rural roads, and modern healthcare. "I have seen the conditions in hill areas where the people have been the victims of government indifference,'' he said.

"A new India is overcoming challenges of the past and growing rapidly. Amenities that should have reached the people in the last century are being made available now. We will get the amenities of the 20th century and will connect Himachal Pradesh with modern facilities of the 21st century,'' he added.

He said rural roads are being constructed at double the speed and broadband connectivity was being taken to the panchayats. "Our government is fulfilling the aspirations of the 21st century India," he said.

He said the need of the hour was development of skill and innovation institutes across the country. He said the youth of Himachal have contributed a lot to nation-building by serving in the Army "By developing new skill sets, the youth can attain higher positions in the armed forces," he added.

The PM said the key focus of his visit to the state was connectivity and education. "Today work is beginning on the second bulk drug park of the country at Una. Various projects have been inaugurated or their foundation stones have been laid in the state today. These will greatly benefit the people," he said.

Modi was presented with the Himachali cap, a shawl, 'Dev Rath' and a 'chunari' of Mata Chintpurni by the CM Jai Ram Thakur.

Meanwhile, the Opposition Congress in Himachal Pradesh on Thursday termed Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to the state a mere "election gimmick", saying it was "terribly scared" of losing the upcoming Assembly elections.

The state is scheduled to go to polls by the end of this year. "The BJP's countdown began with biting the dust in the bypolls," state Congress president Pratibha Singh said in a statement.

In the bypolls held in the state on October 30 last year, the BJP had lost the Mandi parliamentary seat and three Assembly seats of Fatehpur, Arki, and Jubbai-Kothkai to the Congress.

Calling Modi's visit to Una and Chamba an "election gimmick", Singh said Chief Minister Jai Ram Thakur was bringing the prime minister to inaugurate and lay foundation stones for projects in a hurry as he and the BJP were "terribly scared" about losing the Assembly polls.

She alleged that the state government was misusing power and people's money in holding public meetings. "The state has been brought to a standstill by bringing it to the verge of an economic bankruptcy," Singh said.

Congress leader Priyanka Gandhi Vadra is slated to address a public meeting in Himachal Pradesh's Solan district on Friday, a party statement said.

Relief to Uddhav: HC steps in, paves way for candidate to contest bypoll

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

EC 'biased, unfair', says Thackeray

Mumbai: The Uddhav Balasaheb Thackeray's faction alleged that the Election Commission of India (ECI) is biased and that it favoured Eknath Shinde while allotting the party symbols to the two factions. The ECI had allotted to the Shinde faction, Balasahebanchi Shiv Sena as the name and a pair of swords and a shield as its party symbol, whereas the Uddhav faction got Shiv Sena Uddhav Balasaheb Thackeray as its name and a 'mashaal' or lit torch as its party symbol. In a four-page letter to the ECI, Uddhav Thackeray has raised 12 serious points and accused the commission of being unfair and biased. Thackeray also alleged ECI of deliberately leaking and making their party name and symbol submissions public on their website, giving an unfair advantage to Shinde. ENS

IN a major relief to the Uddhav Balasaheb Thackeray faction of Shiv Sena, the Bombay High Court on Thursday asked the civic agency BMC to accept Rutuja Latke's resignation by Saturday 11am allowing her to contest the Andheri East Assembly by-election.

Latke had moved the HC on Wednesday seeking direction to the Mumbai civic body to accept her resignation as its employee.

"If an employee wants to resign and contest elections, what is the difficulty? The petitioner is a clerk. Why is the Municipal Commissioner not using his discretion and taking a decision," Justice Jamdar asked.

"It is just an employer-employee dispute before us. This is not even a matter that should have come to court. The commissioner should have done it by now. When will you (BMC) do it? The last date (to submit nomination) is tomorrow," the HC bench said.

The last date for filing the nomination papers for the November 3 by-election is October 14.

Latke's counsel Vishwajeet Sawant told the court that she is only a clerk, who has no pending dues or enquiries. In normal circumstances, the resignation would have been accepted by the Joint Commissioner itself. "But due to the political circumstances, her resignation is pending before the Commissioner," Sawant said.

The BMC told the court that a decision on the resignation was not taken as the resignation was defective.

In her petition, Rutuja Latke said the delay by the civic body in issuing a letter or order (accepting her resignation) appears to be deliberate to prevent her from contesting the by-election.

She also requested the high court to allow her to file a nomination for the by-election, necessitated by the death of her husband and sitting MLA Ramesh Latke. Rutuja Latke, however, has not mentioned the party she wants to file the poll nomination.

Separately, Rutuja Latke has maintained that she will contest the by-election on the Thackeray faction's 'mashaal' symbol.

BJP leader's wife dead in U'khand firing, UP cops face murder charges

NARENDRA SETHI @Dehradun

THE wife of a local BJP leader was killed and six others injured when residents of an Uttarakhand village clashed with an Uttar Pradesh Police team that had arrived there to arrest a man accused of illegal sand mining late on Wednesday, an official said.

The Uttarakhand police have registered a murder case against UP Police personnel, sources said.

Five of the injured are personnel of UP Police, two of them with gunshot wounds, the police said. The condition of the two of them is said to be critical. "Two rounds of forensic investigations have been conducted and a lot of valuable evidence has been found," said Udham Singh Nagar Senior Superintendent of Police Manjunath TC. The SSP hoped to solve the case soon. Reports said the suspect involved in illegal mining was also an accused in an attack on an SDM in Thakurdwara of Moradabad.

Six policemen, including in charge of the Thakurdwara police station were badly injured in the attack. The Wednesday night clash took place in Bharatpur village near Kashipur in Uttarakhand's Udham Singh Nagar district. The policemen had come from the adjacent Moradabad district looking for Jafar, alleged to be a member of a mining mafia.

A Special Operations Group of Thakurdwara police station in Moradabad district reached Bharatpur to raid the house of BJP leader and Jaspur senior block pramukh Gurtaj Bhullar in search of Jafar, UP Police said. When they reached Bhullar's house, an argument ensued. Both sides allegedly fired at each other in which Bhullar's wife Gurpreet was killed.

Following the incident, villagers blocked the highway. Kashipur MLA Trilok Singh Cheema, Gadarpur MLA Arvind Pandey and former MP Balraj Passi joined the protesters.

BJP sweeps bypoll in Chhindwara

Congress suffered a big setback in the recent urban local by-elections held on September 27, in Chhindwara, when out of six local bodies, BJP won four. Chhindwara is also considered Congress MP Kamal Nath's citadel. While, Nath has won the Lok Sabha seat nine times in the past by Nath and once by his wife Alka, his son Nakul at present the Congress MP from the same seat. All seven assembly seats of Chhindwara were won by Nath led Congress in 2018 polls. Not only did Congress suffer drubbing against BJP in four local bodies of Chhindwara, but also lost in most other local bodies which went to polls on September 27. Importantly, Congress had won 30 out of 47 tribal reserved assembly seats in 2018 polls and is keenly eyeing those seats to return to power in 2023.

Diggy's son calls Scindia 'panauti'

The decade-long feud between Scindia's and Digvijaya Singh's family has now permeated to the second generation. At a Congress meeting in Bhopal on Wednesday, Singh's son MLA Jaivardhan Singh dubbed Union Minister and BJP MP Jyotiraditya Scindia a 'panauti' (bad omen). Hailing the historic triumph of Congress in July mayoral elections in Gwalior, Jaivardhan said Congress won after 57 years "because our 'panauti', Jyotiraditya Scindia joined the BJP." This is possibly the first time that the ex-MP has publicly ridiculed Scindia, whose departure from Congress in March 2020 led to the collapse of the 15-month-old Kamal Nath government.

Bengal teacher job scam probe widened

Kolkata: The Enforcement Directorate is widening its probe into the primary school teachers' recruitment scam to include 58,000 such appointments in the decade-long tenure of the arrested TMC MLA Manik Bhattacharya. He was the chairperson of the West Bengal Board of Primary Education. ED sources said Bhattacharya was the key person in making these appointments allegedly in exchange for money. The Central agency came across several answer sheets where candidates did not answer any question but were appointed teachers, depriving the qualified applicants. While searching Bhattacharya's residence recently, ED sleuths found a letter addressed to Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee mentioning the alleged recruitment scam. ENS

A special court in Raipur has remanded IAS officer Sameer Vishnoi and two others arrested by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Thursday till October 21. The central agency carried out the raids in different districts of the state since Tuesday.

The ED produced a 2009-batch IAS officer Vishnoi and two businessmen Sunil Agrawal, Laxmikant Tiwari before the special court of additional sessions judge Ajay Singh Rajpur and sought their custody.

The three accused have been arrested under the criminal sections of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act and taken to the court after their medical check-up. "The court has sent all three men to the judicial custody of ED till October 21 with the mandate that the interrogation by the agency will be carried out in the presence of their respective lawyers," said S K Farhan, the counsel of Vishnoi. Vishnoi had alleged that he had been falsely implicated by the federal agency in the case fabricated against him. The ED claimed to have recovered 4 kg gold, 20 carat diamond and ₹47 lakh cash from the residence of Vishnoi.

Opposing the ED's argument and remand plea, the lawyers appearing for the three had questioned the ground of arrest calling it as "false action". The ED had conducted extensive searches at multiple locations of senior government officials, including the deputy secretary in CM officer, businessmen and leaders of the ruling party.

The bureaucrats whose residential premises were searched included Raigarh collector Ranu Sahu, her husband JP Maurya who is director of Mineral Resources and Mining and Sameer Vishnoi CEO Chhattisgarh Infotech Promotion Society and Saumya Chaurasia deputy secretary to the CM.

Meghalaya says it will sort out border tiff with Assam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

GIVEN its experience, the Meghalaya government has assured that it will try to address the concerns of border residents while moving ahead to resolve the state's boundary disputes with Assam in the six areas of contention.

The signing of an MoU by the two states in March this year on the first six areas saw a section of border residents venting their ire on the streets and several organisations and political parties demanding its review. However, the Conrad K Sangma government held its ground by rejecting the demand.

Both states had adopted the 50:50 template to solve the problem. Half of the disputed areas went to Meghalaya and half to Assam.

Meghalaya Home Minister Lahkmen Rymbui on Wednesday said the two states were committed to resolving this long-pending problem.

"We will give priority to the consent and will of the people living in the border areas. It is not an easy task as a lot of factors are involved," the minister said.

The dispute in the remaining six areas falling under three districts on either side is considered complex. One of the areas – Langpih – witnessed several incidents of skirmishes in the past. Rymbui said the state government was preparing the groundwork for the boundary talks in the second phase.

Both states have already formed three "regional committees" each. They will conduct joint visits to the disputed sites and meet the residents to examine the status of the dispute.

They will submit their reports to respective governments based on the agreed yardsticks of historical facts, ethnicity, administrative convenience and contiguity of the land.

US CORE INFLATION CLIMBS TO 40-YEAR HIGH OF 6.6%

Overall consumer price index jumps 0.4% to 8.2% in Sept

WASHINGTON

The US core consumer price index increased 6.6% from a year ago, the highest level since 1982, the Labor Department data showed on Thursday. The Core Consumer Price Index measures the changes in the price of goods and services, excluding food and energy.

With the US adding 2.63 lakh jobs in September and the unemployment rate falling, experts say the rise in CPI would pave the way for another major rate hike by the US Federal Reserve.

Meanwhile, inflation jumped more than expected in September, according to government data released Thursday, in the latest sign that pricing pressures have become more intractable despite aggressive central bank action. US prices rose 0.4 per cent in September compared to August, twice the 0.2 per cent projected by analysts, with price increases for food, shelter and medical care weighing on consumers, according to data from the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The data comprise the final consumer inflation report before US midterm elections in which Republicans have sought to blame President Joe Biden's Democratic party for the price increases. The report boosts the odds that the Federal Reserve will extend its policy of super-sized interest rate hikes to counter inflation when it next meets in November — actions that will raise the cost for mortgages and car loans.

In September, the Fed enacted its third straight increase of 0.75 percentage point as Fed Chair Jerome Powell acknowledged that there isn't a "painless" way to bring inflation down. But the data Thursday showed the Fed's actions thus far have come nowhere near realising the goal of two per cent inflation over the long run. The central bank has aimed to stop inflation before it becomes engrained in the economy.

The reading for core inflation, which strips out volatile energy and food prices, rose 0.6 per cent in September, more than the 0.4 per cent projected by analysts. Other items that saw price increases in September included motor vehicle insurance, householder furnishings and education. Items with decreases included used cars and apparel. Beaten-down stock markets fell further early Thursday, with S&P 500 futures quickly tumbling deep into red just after the report was released. Art Hogan, analyst of B Riley Wealth Management, called the inflation report "significantly hotter than expected," adding, "it's certainly not a good report for equity markets." The data also has political implications, coming four weeks ahead of midterm congressional elections.

Republican candidates have blamed Biden for broad-based price increases in trying to win back control of Congress from Biden's Democratic party, tying high gasoline prices to Democratic resistance to new oil and gas drilling and Biden's efforts to address climate change. AFP

Midterm polls: Saudis say Biden pressed for delay in oil output cut

Saudi Arabia said Thursday that the US had urged the kingdom to postpone a decision by OPEC and its allies 'including Russia' to cut oil production by a month. Such a delay could have helped reduce the risk of a spike in gas prices ahead of the US midterm elections next month. A statement issued by the Saudi Foreign Ministry didn't specifically mention the November 8 elections in which US President Joe Biden is trying to maintain his narrow Democratic majority in Congress. However, it stated that the US "suggested" the cuts be delayed by a month.

U.K. to send defence system to Kyiv that can down cruise missiles

LONDON

BRITAIN on Thursday said it would supply Ukraine with air defence missiles to defend itself against Russian assaults and will for the first time provide rockets capable of shooting down cruise missiles.

The announcement comes after Western allies on Wednesday vowed to rapidly deliver new air defences to Ukraine to bolster protection against Russian aerial attack.Russian President Vladimir Putin unleashed a barrage across Ukraine on Monday following a blast at a bridge to the annexed Crimea peninsula.

"The AMRAAM rockets... will be provided in the coming weeks for use with the NASAMS air defence systems pledged by the US," the British defence ministry said in a statement. "The rockets will help to protect Ukraine's critical national infrastructure," it said.Britain said it would also send hundreds of drones to support Ukraine's intelligence services as well as 18 howitzer artillery guns, in addition to 64 already delivered. "These weapons will help Ukraine defend its skies from attacks and strengthen their overall missile defence alongside the US NASAMS," British Defence Minister Ben Wallace said.Ukraine's President Volodymyr Zelensky had on Tuesday called on the G7 club of wealthy nations including Britain to help Kyiv create an "air shield".

NATO chief Jens Stoltenberg said the "top priority" of Ukraine's Western backers was to provide Kyiv with more air defences to protect against Russia's "indiscriminate" attacks. Defence ministers from the Western military alliance are meeting on Thursday in Brussels. AFP

Mindtree Q2 net rises 27.5%; LTI-Mindtree merger by Dec

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

MIDCAP IT services company Mindtree on Thursday posted a 27.5% increase in its consolidated net profit for the second quarter at ₹509 crore.

The company had posted net profit of ₹399 crore in the year-ago period.

It reported a 31% increase in revenue from operations for the second quarter at ₹3,400 crore compared to ₹2,586 crore in the same quarter last year.

For the first time, with an order book of $518 million, its H1 signings have crossed $1 billion. Debashis Chatterjee, CEO and MD, Mindtree, said, "We maintained our EBITDA margin at a healthy 21% despite wage hikes across the board, making it our seventh consecutive quarter of more than 5% revenue growth in constant currency, and eighth consecutive quarter of more than 20% EBITDA margin."

The company witnessed 20.4% YoY revenue growth for Top 10 clients. Of all the verticals, the company's communications, media and technology industry contributes maximum revenue to the company, followed by BFSI.

Q3 is a seasonally weak quarter for the company, and Chatterjee said they are a bit cautious about the quarter. The company has 276 active clients as of September 30, 2022. Its trailing 12 months attrition was 24.1%, and it expects moderation in the coming quarters. Its employee headcount stood at 38,290. Chatterjee also informed that the LTI-Mindtree merger is in the final stages, and they will be merged by the end of this calendar year. It is expected that from the next quarter, the merged entity LTI-Mindtree will announce the results. The integration will see LTI and Mindtree join strengths to create a scaled-up IT services provider exceeding $3.5 billion. For the combined entity, BFSI will be the largest vertical.

Infy Q2 net up 11% at ₹6,021 crore

Company announced ₹9,300 crore share buyback plan and set maximum price at ₹1,850

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

THE country's second-largest IT services company Infosys on Thursday, beating street estimates, reported a 11% increase in its consolidated net profit for the second quarter (July-September) at ₹6,021 crore compared to ₹5,421 crore posted in the same quarter last year.

Infosys also announced ₹9,300 crore share buyback plan, and has set the maximum price at ₹1,850, which is a premium of 30%. The company's shares closed at ₹1,419.75 on Thursday on the BSE.

"Subject to the market price of the equity shares being equal to the maximum buyback price, the indicative maximum number of equity shares bought back would be 50,270,270 equity shares, comprising nearly 1.19% of the paid-up capital of the company as of September 30, 2022," Infosys said. This is the company's fourth buyback in the last five years.

The IT company's revenue from operations for the second quarter stood at Rs 36,538 crore, a 23% increase from the year-ago period. It had reported Rs 29,602 crore in Q2FY22. Infosys also revised its FY 23 revenue guidance to 15%-16% from 14%-16%, and trimmed its operating margin guidance to 21%-22% (from 21%-23%).

"While concerns around the economic outlook persist, our demand pipeline is strong as clients remain confident in our ability to deliver the value they seek, both on the growth and efficiency of their businesses. This is reflected in our revised revenue guidance of 15%-16% for FY 23", said Salil Parekh, CEO and MD, Infosys.

Parekh said the company has signed 27 large deals in Q2. The large deal TCV (total contract value) in Q2 was at $2.7 billion, which is the highest in the last seven quarters. Infosys CEO at the Q2 earnings conference said they also see some caution in hi-tech and telecom besides mortgage and financial services. The company's operating margin for Q2 increased sequentially by 140 bps to 21.5%. Infosys also announced ₹16.50 per share interim dividend.

VITAL STATS

- Revenue guidance revised to 15-16% in FY23

Startup funding falls to 2-year low at $2.7 billion in third quarter of CY22

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

IN line with global slowdown, start-up funding in India hit a two-year low in Q3CY2022 (July-September period) at $ 2.7 billion across 205 deals when compared to $6.6 billion funding across 285 deal in Q2CY2023 (April-June), as per the PwC India report titled, "Startup Deals Tracker - Q3 CY22".

The fall in funding activity is steeper on an annual basis as investors had poured a record $11.4 billion into the Indian startup ecosystem across 326 deals in the Q3 of CY2021.

"It is tough to predict how long the slowdown in funding will last but clearly, both founders and investors are being more selective and cautious in deal-making," Amit Nawka, Partner - Deals & India Startups Leader, PwC India, said.

According to Nawka, early-stage start-ups will be able to raise capital more easily as they are typically more insulated than late-stage deals from fluctuations in the public markets.

The performance of loss-making digital companies on India's stock exchange has been abysmal with heavyweights such as Paytm and Zomato burning billions of investors' money. The average deal ticket size fell from $23 million in Q2CY22 to $13 million in Q3CY22, as per the report. Barring EdTech and e-commerce B2B (business-to-business), funding activity plunged across all sectors during Q3CY22.

As per the PwC report, only two start-ups in India attained the unicorn status in Q2 CY22 and no new decacorns ($10 bl valuation) were added in this quarter. Globally, Q3 CY22 produced 20 unicorns and 45% of them are from the SaaS segment. PwC estimates that there are 84 unicorns in India as of September 31, 2022.

According to PwC, the silver lining for the global startup ecosystem is the 'dry powder' which refers to the amount of committed but unallocated capital, PE and VC firms have. Globally, there is $562 billion in dry powder available for start-ups in VC funds.

"Start-ups with business models requiring high burn and delayed monetisation, such as those in B2C markets, have the greatest exposure to funding risk," said Rahul Chandra, Co-Founder and Managing Director at Arkam Ventures.

After Wipro, Infy fires employees over moonlighting

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

FOR a few months now, moonlighting or having a second job has become a heated debate in the tech industry. All major IT companies that announced their Q2 results also warned their employees against moonlighting.

Both Infosys and Mindtree that announced their Q2 results on Thursday said they do not support dual employment.

Though Infosys CEO and MD Salil Parekh didn't give the exact number of people that the firm terminated due to dual employment, he said in the post Q2 result press conference that they have let go of some employees over the past 12 months who were doing blatant work in two specific companies where there were confidentiality issues. "We have let go of them," he said. He also said that they support the aspirations of employees to learn beyond their work after prior approval of managers. Within the company, employees can take up other gigs apart from their main work. The company has so far onboarded 40,000 freshers in this fiscal. Earlier, it said it would hire 50,000 freshers in FY23. Nilanjan Roy, CFO, Infosys said that they were on track to onboarding freshers and they might hire over 10,000 in the coming quarters. He added that there has been no delay in onboarding freshers. In Q2 alone, the company added over 10,000 employees. Its attrition has come down to 27.1% in the second quarter, compared to 28.4% in the first quarter of this fiscal. Infosys CEO said attrition has been reducing for the last three quarters. "While supply side challenges are gradually abating as reflected in the reducing attrition rates, they continue to exert pressure on our cost structure," Roy said. The company also said the number of employees coming back to the office has been increasing.

No dual employment, say Infosys, Mindtree

Both Infosys and Mindtree that announced their Q2 results on Thursday said they don't support dual employment. Though Infosys CEO and MD Salil Parekh didn't give exact number of people that the firm terminated due to dual employment, he said in the post Q2 result press conference that they have let go of some employees over the past 12 months

Market closes in red, Nifty settles above 17,000 level, Wipro falls 7%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA'S equity benchmarks - Sensex and Nifty - ended lower on Thursday, tracking negative Asian cues and weak domestic economic data. The Nifty 50 index managed to settle above the 17,000 level while the Sensex declined 391 points or 0.68% to 57,235.

"Markets continued to witness a tumultuous ride as weak Asian cues came as a dampener although positive European markets helped temper the fall. The gloomy mood due to global economic uncertainty has precipitated the fall in recent sessions," said Shrikant Chouhan, Head of Equity Research (Retail), Kotak Securities. Japan's Nikkei 225 fell 0.60% on Thursday while Hong Kong's Hang Seng plunged nearly 2%.

Vinod Nair, head of research at Geojit Financial Services, said retail inflation persisting above the desired levels and declining industrial production in August may not be taken well by the market because Indian economy is anticipated to sustain its resilience. India on Wednesday reported that its consumer price index shot up to 7.41% in September while factory output fell to an 18-month low of 0.8% in August from 2.2% in July. In this backdrop, the impending US inflation figures, which are forecasted to remain high, may cause volatility in the global market, he added. Later in the data, the US reported that its retail inflation rose 8.2% in September 2022 from a year ago, more than estimates and tad below August's 8.3% reading. This, according to experts, gives ample room to the Federal Reserve to go for another round of steep rate hike, which may prove to be a big negative for the equity market worldwide.

Meanwhile, IT heavyweight Wipro plunged more than 7% to hit a 52-week low of ₹378 apiece on the BSE on Thursday after it reported a 9% drop in its September quarter net profit to ₹2,659 crore, weighed down by rising employee expenses and lower earnings from non-US markets. "Guidance for Q3 (FY23) is disappointing and alludes to slowdown. We cut FY23-24 EPS (earnings per share) estimates by 3-5 percent," said analysts as Nomura while giving a 'neutral' call on the stock with a target price of ₹380.

'Online gaming industry is okay with 28% GST if levied only on fee'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE online gaming industry will be okay with a 28% GST if the tax is levied on the commission/fee earned by the platforms and not the total pooled amount.

Roland Landers, CEO of the All India Gaming Federation (AIGF), on Thursday said if the government settles the valuation aspect of the GST in the industry's favour, it will be okay with 28% GST.

"We can take care of a 55% higher tax outgo (due to 28% GST instead of 18%), but we can't deal with an 1,100% increase in tax liability (if the government decides to tax on the pooled amount instead of the fee earned)," he said.

The online gaming industry has been making representation against the government bracketing online gaming with casino and horse racing.

The industry has argued that unlike casino and horse racing, online gaming is a game of skill rather than games of chance, and therefore, it should be taxed at 18% instead of 28%.

The industry has also opposed the tax authorities' stand on GST being levied on the total pool (prize money pooled plus the platform commission) and not on gross gaming revenue (GGR). The matter is still pending with the GST Council, which has formed a Group of Ministers (GoM) to decide both the valuation and tax rate issue.

Meanwhile, the industry sources said that GST authorities have served ₹49,000 crore tax demand on seven online gaming companies including Gamescraft, Dream11, Games 24x7 and Head Digital Work (which operates online games by the name of A23).

These companies were served tax demand notice for allegedly indulging in betting and gambling, and accordingly the company is liable to pay a GST of 28% on the 'face value' of collections made.

The industry sources have said to serve ₹49,000 crore tax demand notice on a fledging sector that generates revenue of only ₹16,000 crore is unthinkable.

PM GatiShakti plan can save over ₹10 lakh cr annually: Goyal

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE PM GatiShakti National Master Plan has the potential to save over ₹10 lakh crore annually by improving logistics efficiency, commerce minister Piyush Goyal said on Thursday.

Addressing the National Workshop on PM GatiShakti held to mark the first anniversary of the roll out of the National Master Plan,Goyal said, "PM GatiShakti is increasingly being used in the social sector for better infrastructure development, thereby, taking fruits of technology to every citizen of the country and improving ease of life for the common man."

The minister said that the PM GatiShakti would help bring in balanced and inclusive, equitable development in the country by helping remote areas, especially those in the North East undertake integrated infrastructure planning and close development gaps.

He referred to the Prime Minister's Development Initiative for North East Region (PM-DevINE) scheme launched on Wednesday and said that by dovetailing PM GatiShakti into the scheme would help utilise resources much more efficiently.

Singapore Airlines in talks over Vistara, AI merger

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AMID strong rumors for a long time, the Singapore Airlines (SIA) on Thursday confirmed that it is in "confidential discussions" with the Tata Group to explore possible merger of Vistara and Air India.

"In line with its multi-hub strategy, SIA is currently in confidential discussions with Tata to explore a potential transaction in relation to the securities of Vistara and Air India Ltd, a subsidiary of Tata (the 'potential transaction').

The discussions seek to deepen the existing partnership between SIA and Tata, and may include a potential integration of Vistara and Air India," SIA said in a regulatory filing to the Singapore Stock Exchange.

Singapore Airlines holds a 49% stake in the full-service-carrier Vistara. Tata group owns 51% stake in Vistara and is also the owner of Air India and Air India Express. The group also has 83.67% shareholding in AirAsia India and is open to buy the remaining stake. After taking over Air India from the Government of India earlier this year, the salt-to-steel conglomerate is said to be working to increase synergy between its different airlines.

In late April this year, it had already proposed to acquire the no-frills carrier AirAsia India for which it has received approval from the Competition Commission of India (CCI).

According to sources, Tata Group has plans to bring all of the group's airlines businesses under the Air India umbrella by 2024.

Last month, Air India had said that it aims to increase its market share to at least 30% in the domestic market and significantly grow in the international routes from the present market share over the next 5 years under its comprehensive transformation plan titled "Vihaan.AI".

According to DGCA data, Air India's market share stood at 8.4% in July 2022, which is nowhere near that of the country's biggest airline IndiGo (58.8%). The combined market share of all Tata Group operated airlines (Air India, Vistara (10.4%) and AirAsia India (4.6%) stood at 23.4 % in July.

Indigo forex loss, fuel cost to remain high in Q2

Adverse currency movement (Indian rupee Vs US dollar) is likely to result in ₹1,100 crore forex loss for Indigo in Q2FY23 and average air turbine fuel (ATF) prices are up 6% quarter-on-quarter to ₹1,30,200 per kilolitre, resulting in fuel expense of ₹6,300 crore, said analysts at ICICI securities in a note. It added that fares are expected to remain strong but surprise on either side is often possible. "Considering passenger load factors (PLFs) remain below 80%, it is evident that airlines are not chasing load factors by sacrificing fares. However, traditionally, Q2 fares are lower than Q1. We factor flattish fares sequentially in Q2FY23." The brokerage expects broadly flattish operational parameters for India's largest carrier IndiGo QoQ in Q2FY23. ICICI Securities expects IndiGo to report a loss of ₹1,500 crore in Q2FY23, while it would be a loss of ₹400 crore adjusted for forex.

Data centre with over 5 Mw capacity gets infra status

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DATA centres with more than 5 megawatt capacity of IT load have accorded infrastructure status, according to recent notification.

The move is likely to help data centre companies to get easier access to institutional credit at lower rates, attract foreign investments, etc.

"Data centre is included in the Harmonized Master List of Infrastructure sub-sectors by insertion of a new item in the category of 'Communication'," reads the notification.

According to the notification, data centres housed in a dedicated/centralised building for storage and processing of digital data applications with a minimum capacity of 5 MW of IT load will be considered eligible for infrastructure status. The capacity of data centres is measured in terms of power they consume which reflects on the scale of the server they are hosting in their facilities.

In her budget speech 2022-23, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had made an announcement that data centres will be granted infrastructure status. Indian corporates like Hiranandani Group, Adani Group, and foreign investors including Amazon, EdgeConnex, Microsoft, CapitaLand, Mantra Group have started investing in Indian data centres. Along with them, existing players like CtrlS, Nxtra, STT India are also expanding their capacities.

Currently in India for symposium, WADA official explains importance of biological passport, what it does & their goals

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE Athletics Biological Passport (ABP) programme of the World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA) will be launching new module to detect human growth hormone next year. Dr Reid Aikin, the Director of Asia/Oceania office of the WADA, is one of the leading experts part of the symposium on WADA's ABP hosted by National Anti-Doping Agency and National Dope Testing Laboratory in New Delhi. He talks about ABP's effectiveness in detecting and how it can act as a deterrent and more during an interview over phone. Excerpts

Importance of ABP in the present day context?
Well, ABP is one tool in anti-doping. It is one of many. There is testing, investigation, education and so on. How the ABP is helpful? It can help direct those other programmes. It is a tool about translating data into actions. It uses the biological data coming from samples and helps anti-doping organisations (ADOs) to decide on different courses of action. These actions could include whether to launch an investigation or to do specific testing or to pursue anti-doping violation (ADV) sanctions based on the passport as well.

There is evidence of increase in blood doping... like EPO, human growth hormones, etc. Is ABP an effective tool in detecting such substances? Can it act as a deterrent?
At present, the ABP is there to detect two main substance classes. The Haematological Module of the ABP is used to detect blood doping, whether it is transfusion or whether it is EPO. And the Steroidal Module helps to detect steroid doping, different types of steroids. (Steroidal module includes Isotope Ratio Mass Spectrometry (IRMS) analysis to detect natural endogenous steroids administered exogenously: WADA). We are also launching in 2023, the Endocrine Module that will target growth hormone doping. To answer the question, EPO and doping is not going to go away. This is something that is very much in use. But if you look at populations that have the passport implemented for a long period of time, the use does go down. You see a change in the nature of this passport and the prevalence of positives. When you look at populations where there is ABP, amateur, national level where athletes are not tested heavily, there is a higher prevalence of substance use here. So it really depends on the amount of testing, whether you give a strong impact or not.

International Federations have made it mandatory. Is there indication that the curve is going down?
If you look at the international federations they are dealing with the entire planet. I think in terms of their trends, it is very regional. There are certain countries that have a doping problem and they no longer do. So their trends have gone down. Others are being tested more and are seeing more cases. Kenya is an example of that. They implemented a laboratory in Kenya with the ability to carry out testing for the blood module of the ABP. That really helped. As a result, there are many more samples and we are seeing more positive cases. It depends on the ability to test but once testing happens, it has a positive effect as a deterrent.

Does ABP help in detecting hyperandrogenism...?
It is possible to detect hyperandrogenism. The beauty of ABP is that we are publishing the base limit and then we are conjoining the limits within which the individual markers could fluctuate and why so. There is a possibility but that is not the purpose of ABP. Then it's up to the experts and the organisations to contact the athletes if there is any medical conditions on the athletes' side...

How is WADA tackling the issue of micro-doping and designer drugs that have very small window to detect?
If an athlete is looking for a long-lasting impact on say, blood doping, that will require an increase in amount of RBCs. We would detect regardless of the substance or method they use. If there is a significant increase, we will be able to detect that and flag it using the ABP. If substance classes don't fall into those detected by the ABP, that is still very much a lab detection issue. As you say, the the window of detection is critical. We hope that as athletes reduce doses, it's reducing the effect. If you have a lower dose of a substance, the effect will be less. So as athletes go to lower doses or micro-doses or reduced timing of the use, that's a win for anti-doping. It's not beating the system but they having less effect. It's less effectiveness of their doping programme.

How symposiums help?
Our goal at WADA is two-fold. We develop the ABP as a tool. As I said before by increasing the number of substances, we can detect and how well it detects them. We develop how the ABP is used globally by ADOs...

BCCI proposes five-team WIPL from March 2023

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

THE Board of Control for Cricket in India has come up with a proposal to host the long-awaited women's IPL in March 2023 with five teams and 22 matches. The inaugural edition and the two following seasons will feature 18 players in each team including six overseas players.

The WIPL has been included as item X in the BCCI's annual general body meeting set to take place in Mumbai on October 18. Ahead of the AGM, in a letter sent to all state units – accessed by this daily – the BCCI stated, "With the rise in popularity of women's cricket in the country mainly due to prominent performances by the Indian senior cricket team on world stage by qualifying for semifinals in 2018 T20 World Cup, finals in 2020 T20 World Cup, securing silver medal in recently held 2022 Commonwealth games in Birmingham, we intend to conduct the Women's IPL on similar lines with the Indian Premier League."

Since the conclusion of the last IPL, the BCCI has been conducting a thorough study of the market and after contemplating whether to play the tournament in a five-team format or six, it has locked the former for the first three seasons. "To have a well balance of domestic & international players and to have competitive teams, it has been tentatively decided to have five teams for WIPL. Each team can comprise maximum of eighteen players where no team can have more than six overseas players. Further, no more than five overseas players — four from Full Members of the ICC and one from the Associate Members of the ICC can be part of the playing XI of each team," the BCCI note read.

And unlike the IPL, which is played in a home and away format, the BCCI has suggested two options. One is to sell five teams based on the six zones that exist in the BCCI. Each zone has been allotted cities to pick from: North (Dharamsala/Jammu), West (Pune, Rajkot), Central (Indore, Nagpur, Raipur), East (Ranchi, Cuttack), South (Kochi, Vizag), North East (Guwahati). Although there are six zones from which bidders can pick five, in future this zonal format would allow only one more team to be added. The other option is to sell teams without any home base with the matches to be played in Ahmedabad, Mumbai, Delhi, Bengaluru, Chennai and Kolkata. It is understood that the BCCI has included the second option as several IPL franchises are showing interest to own a team in the women's tournament. And if needed, they can play matches in any of the cities included in the first plan.

The BCCI will employ a caravan format where two venues will host 10 matches each season. "Ten matches each to be played across two venues in the 2023 WIPL season, ten each in the next two venues in the 2024 season, and for the 2025 season ten matches in the remaining one venue and the remaining ten in one of the venues from 2023 season."

Need to fight it out: Coach Dennerby

India U17 women lost to USA 0-8 in their opening game of the World Cup | AIFF

THE final outcome of the opening match against USA was a real eye-opener for the India U-17 Women's football team. The manner of defeat was a harsh one. Leaving the disappointment of the 0-8 defeat behind, India coach Thomas Dennerby is now looking to inspire his wards to come up with an improved display in their second outing of the ongoing FIFA U-17 Women's World Cup. Facing Morocco in a Group A meeting on Friday, Dennerby is hopeful that India can return with points in the marquee event.

"We have a good chance against Morocco tomorrow (Friday). If we can show the right attitude, we can score and get some points," said Dennerby on Thursday. "We need to fight it out — we have no other option left," he said.

The coach is hopeful that the girls can come up with better decision-making on the pitch when they take the field against the African nation. "We have a team that can definitely handle the speed but football is not all about running or the number of sprints the girls take. It is also about taking the right decisions at the right moment. That was the biggest problem we faced against the USA in our early game – the girls need to put their hundred per cent on the pitch," Dennerby added. Morocco lost 1-0 against Brazil in the opening match of Group A and neither India nor Morocco are yet to log a point. India sit at the bottom of the table because of poorer goal difference. A win for India would help them stay in contention. "Morocco are a strong team, who defends well. They are technically good with their passing game, the accuracy is also impressive. For us, it is either a win or out of the tournament. The girls need to play free football and they should avail every chance that comes their way."

India face Sri Lanka in Asia Cup summit clash

ENS @Chennai

THE ongoing women's Asia Cup has been full of surprises. Perhaps, the only constant has been the domination of India who have walked into the final after beating Thailand in the semifinals on Thursday.

In the first knockout game of the day, India fielded what has been their favourite playing XI, with seven spinners and two seamers. They had four specialist spinners and batted till deep with Sneh Rana slotted at No 8. Skipper Harmanpreet Kaur was leading the side after being rested for a couple of games.

Shafali Verma scored 42 runs off just 28 balls. Jemimah Rodrigues (27) and Harmanpreet (36) held the middle-order together as they finished with 148/6. With the ball, India bowled 18 overs of spin with Deepti Sharma taking 3/7 as India completed a 74-run win. It was as clinical a performance as they could have wanted before entering the final.

Through the course of the tournament, India have been trying to provide game-time to the players who have warmed the bench. The team management have spoken extensively on how this tournament is a preparation for the T20 World Cup. That India lost only one match on their way to the final with almost every batter getting some runs will be the biggest positive for them.

Meanwhile, there have been a few close games amongst other teams. Thailand beat Pakistan in the group stage and made it to the knockouts for the first time. Bangladesh missed out due to rain, but more importantly, Sri Lanka trumped Pakistan by one run in the other semifinal, advancing to the summit clash for the first time since 2008.

The Chamari Atapattu-led side would be the happiest team in the group as they progressed to the final with very little contribution from the skipper, who, on her day, can take away the game from any opponent. While she hasn't fired so far (96 runs in 7 innings), India will be wary of the threat she poses as the southpaw might step up and take them to cleaners come Saturday.

BRIEF SCORES: India 148/6 in 20 ovs (Shafali 42; Tippoch 3/24) bt Thailand 74/9 in 20 ovs (Chaiwai 21; Deepti 3/7); Sri Lanka 122/6 in 20 ovs (Harshitha 35; Sandhu 3/17) bt Pakistan 121/6 in 20 ovs (Bismah 42; Inoka 2/17).

Worlds: Bronze for pistol team

ENS/AGENICES @Chennai

INDIAN shooters got off to an ideal start in the ISSF World Championship (rifle/pistol) in Cairo, Egypt, with the women's 25m pistol team returning with a bronze medal on Thursday. The combination of Esha Singh, Naamya Kapoor and Vibhuti Bhatia were too good for Germany shooters in the bronze medal match.

This event, which began with junior shooters in action, is an vital one as there are Olympic quotas on offer. Some of the elite rifle and pistol shooters are in action. On Thursday, Esha, Naamya and Vibhuti finished fourth in the first round of qualification with a score of 856 to make it to the next stage.

Barca in trouble, Napoli on song

Barcelona are on the brink of elimination while Napoli continued their eye-catching form. A look at Wednesday's Champions League matches...

NOU CAMP, OLD STORY

They may have addressed their issues in La Liga but in Europe, Barcelona remains a rabble. After a 3-3 thriller against Inter — the Serie A side ought to have sealed the win at the end — it leaves them on the brink. If the Italians win against Viktoria Plzen, it will send the Catalans into the Europa League. If that happens, it will be another big financial blow for a side that had hoped to spend theire way out of exactly that scenario.

NAPOLI, SURPRISE EARLY-SEASON FAVOURITES

Despite the presence of elite superclubs, the Champions League always has the tendency to throw up a pleasant surprise. This season's flavour is Napoli, who have now assured themselves a spot in the last 16. They are fast, direct and are the leading scorer's this season with 17 in their first four matches. This team will be ultimately disbanded but they are capable of composing the winning song.

BRUGGE IN LAST 16

Atletico were supposed to boss this group. In the end, the only club that's already in the last 16 is Belgium side Club Brugge. What's propelled them so far is their iron clad defensive solidity. They are the only club yet to concede a goal in this year's competition. Up front, they are clinical in front of goal. Ironically, they are well off the pace in the domestic league but they won't mind that as they take this adventure into the New Year.

RESULTS: Group A: Napoli 4-2 Ajax, Rangers 1-7 Liverpool; Group B: Atletico Madrid 0-0 Club Brugge, Bayer Leverkusen 0-3 Porto; Group C: Barcelona 3-3 Inter Milan, Viktoria Plzen 2-4 Bayern Munich; Group D: Sporting Lisbon 0-2 Marseille, Tottenham Hotspur 3-2 Eintracht Frankfurt.

PCA chief Chahal resigns amid allegations

NEW DELHI: Gulzar Inder Singh Chahal has resigned as the president of the Punjab Cricket Association, days after former India spinner Harbhajan Singh claimed "illegal activities" were being carried out under the current dispensation. Earlier this month, Harbhajan had alleged wrongdoing in the association. Harbhajan, though, didn't mention the name of the office-bearers in his letter, which was sent to PCA members and district units of the body.

Warner was handed a leadership ban following the 2018 ball-tampering scandal. "CA's code would need to be rewritten before Warner's ban could be reviewed, and a rewrite is something directors will discuss at Friday's board meeting in Hobart," AAP reported.

INDIAN SUPER LEAGUE

Chennaiyin look to make home advantage count against Bengaluru

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

TWO-TIME Indian Super League (ISL) champion Chennaiyin FC had a good start to the season as they beat ATK Mohun Bagan 2-1 at Kolkata on Monday. At the Salt Lake Stadium on Monday, Chennaiyin trailed behind thanks to Manvir Singh's goal in the first half before scoring twice after the break courtesy goals by substitute Kwame Karikari (penalty) and Rahim Ali. The Anirudh Thapa-led side came back aggressively after the break, created more pressure on the opposition defense line and opened their account.

This is what the Chennaiyin skipper wants and wishes to carry the momentum in the next game against Bengaluru FC at the Jawaharlal Nehru stadium in Chennai on Friday. CFC head coach Thomas Brdaric had pointed out that his team had made a lot of mistakes in the season opener and the team needed to pull up their socks and improve since it is a long tournament.

"We have a good mentality and power. I knew before that we could bounce back. We had a lack of concentration early on and made too many mistakes. We have to speak about it because it can punish us," Thomas Brdaric, CFC head coach, had said.

Thapa too agreed with his coach and insisted that it was important to iron out their flaws ahead of their clash against Bengaluru FC. "We need to be consistent with our performance. Obviously, in the first game against Mohun Bagan you know, the first half, we were quite slow. We were losing quite a few balls in position also. And I think in the second half, we came back pretty well. That's what we need to do in full 90 minutes. And if we keep the momentum going on, I think we will have a pretty good season. The most important thing is we need to be mentally, you know strong and just do what we are told to do and just go with the plan," said Thapa on Thursday.

Chennaiyin FC head coach Thomas Brdaric (L) and captain Anirudh Thapa | CFC

CFC skipper is excited to be playing in Chennai once again. This (Benguluru FC) game will be the first one to be played here since the pandemic broke out two years back. CFC have found much success at home with the crowd's support. "Now, obviously it is an advantage when you have the home support after two seasons. And this is an advantage for us because we have seen in the past seasons, like how you know home run and away, gives us an advantage and a disadvantage. So I think this will be a positive thing for us when fans are finally back," insisted Thapa.

CFC were not able to field their best team due to injuries to some of its key players in the Kolkata game. Rafael Crivellaro is not part of the ISL squad due to fitness reasons. There were doubts on the availability of Vincy Barretto, Alexander Romario Jesuraj and others who missed the previous match due to injuries. Thursday's results: NE United 0-3 Hyderabad FC.

Trump's Truth Social back

TECHNOLOGY

Google said it has allowed Donald Trump's Truth Social app in its Play Store for Android devices after receiving assurances the app would meet the platform's standards for moderating harmful content. The app which Trump launched after being barred from Twitter over the 2021 Capitol riot had been kept out of Google's store over its lack of moderation tools, including for violent threats. Google said the app has since been updated to comply with its policies barring objectionable posts, and has built in effective systems for reporting and removing unwanted content. Developers can make Android apps available elsewhere on the internet, but the Play Store is a main source of content for users.

The incident came amid heighten security on key energy, internet and power infrastructures following last month's underwater explosions that ruptured two natural gas pipelines in the Baltic Sea that were built to deliver Russian gas to Germany. Police said there was "no evidence that the bomb threat against the Ormen Lange facility was real." Can DNA profiling solve a murder mystery?

DNA profiling is frequently in the news. Public interest is sparked when DNA is used to identify a suspect or human remains or resolves a cold case that seems all but forgotten. Occasionally, it is in the media when the process doesn't work as it should. So what is DNA profiling? How does it work? How foolproof it is?

A SHORT HISTORY OF DNA PROFILING

DNA profiling, as it has been known since 1994, has been used in the criminal justice system since the late 1980s, and was originally termed 'DNA fingerprinting'

99.9%

The DNA in every human is very similar, up to 99.9% identical, in fact

98%

But strangely, about 98% of the DNA in our cells is not gene-related i.e. has no known function

DNA SEQUENCE

This non-coding DNA is largely comprised of sequences of the four bases that make up the DNA in every cell

But for reasons unknown, some sections of the sequence are repeated: example is TCTATCTATCTATCTATCTA where the sequence TCTA is repeated five times

While the number of times this DNA sequence is repeated is constant within a person, it can vary between people. One person might have 5 repeats but another 6, or 7 or 8

DNA PROFILE

A DNA profile is a list of numbers, based on the repeated sequences we all have

The use of these short repeat sequences or short tandem repeat or STR started in 1994 when the UK Forensic Science Service identified four of these regions

POLICE LINE DO NOT CROSS
POLICE
LINE DO NOT CROSS

BEDROCK OF DNA PROFILING

There are a large number of variants and all humans fall into one of them. The detection of the bases repeat is the bedrock of modern DNA profiling

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

HOW IS DNA PROFILING PERFORMED?

The repeat sequence will be the same in every cell within a person, thus, the DNA profile from a blood sample will be the same as from a plucked hair or skin

It also means a DNA profile will not in itself indicate from what type of tissue it originated

Consider a knife alleged to be integral to an investigation. A swab will be moistened and rubbed over the handle to collect any cells present

The swab will then be placed in a tube containing chemicals that purifies the DNA. The amount of DNA will then be quantified

If there is sufficient DNA present, we can proceed to generate a DNA profile. The optimum amount of DNA needed to generate profile is 500 picograms —representing only 80 cells

HOW FOOLPROOF IT IS? : DNA profiling is highly sensitive, given it can work from 80 cells that can belong to two people. And there might be chances that DNA profiling will be a mixture of two

WILDLIFE POPULATIONS PLUNGE 69% SINCE 1970

ENVIRONMENT

PARIS: Wild populations of monitored animal species have plummeted nearly 70% in the last 50 years, according to a landmark assessment released on Thursday that highlights 'devastating' losses to nature due to human activity.

Featuring data from 32,000 populations of more than 5,000 species of mammals, birds, amphibians, reptiles and fish, the World Wildlife Fund (WWF) Living Planet Index shows accelerating falls across the globe.

In biodiversity-rich regions such as Latin America and the Caribbean, the figure for animal population loss is as high as 94%. Globally, the report found that monitored animal populations had fallen 69% since 1970.

Marco Lambertini, director general of WWF International, said his organisation was 'extremely worried' by the new data. "(It shows) a devastating fall in wildlife populations, in particular in tropical regions that are home to some of the most biodiverse landscapes in the world," he said.

The index found that freshwater species had declined more than those found in any other habitat, with an 83% population fall since 1970.

The report found that the main drivers of wildlife loss are habitat degradation due to development and farming, exploitation, the introduction of invasive species, pollution, climate change and disease.

The Living Planet Report argues that increasing conservation and restoration efforts, producing and consuming food more sustainably, and rapidly and deeply decarbonising all sectors can alleviate the twin crises of biodiversity loss. It also calls for governments to properly factor into policy-making the value of services rendered by nature, like food.
